1      Chateau Angelus 2000

St. Emilion

Bottle (4)

"Medium garnet-brick in color, the 2000 Angélus comes galloping out of the glass with a powerful nose of fragrant earth, damp soil, iron ore and cigar box over a core of prunes, blackberry jam and dried mulberries. Medium-bodied, the palate is elegantly styled with great freshness and loads of earth and mineral-inspired layers, framed by grainy tannins, finishing with a lingering menthol lift. It is in a sweet spot for drinking right now, although it should go on for another 15–20 years." (99 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, The Wine Advocate, Oct. 2020)

Estimate: $1,500-$2,000

Starting Bid: $1,200

2      Chateau Cheval Blanc 2000

St. Emilion

2lbl, 2lscl

Bottle (3)

"A wine of exquisite aromatic depth and grace, the 2000 Cheval Blanc is fully captivating. All the elements fall into place in an effortless, gracious wine. It's frankly hard to move past the 2000 Cheval, because at this point, I want nothing to compete with it." (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Oct. 2017)

Estimate: $1,900-$2,600

5      Chateau l'Eglise Clinet 2016

Pomerol

Bottle (3)

"The 2016 L'Eglise Clinet has a medium to deep garnet-purple color with aromas of warm black cherries, mulberries and Black Forest cake slipping seductively from the glass plus nuances of rose hip tea, baking spices, fragrant soil and fallen leaves. Medium to full-bodied, it's wonderfully elegant in the mouth with fantastically plush tannins and seamless freshness, finishing very long and very perfumed. Beautiful!" (98 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Nov. 2018)

Estimate: $450-$550

Starting Bid: $350

6      Clos de la Roche 2014

A. Rousseau

Bottle (4)

"This is also moderately reduced and impossible to properly assess. Otherwise there is excellent volume to the equally muscular big-bodied flavors that are richer but don't quite have the same sense of underlying tension before terminating in a palate coating and quite firmly structured finish that delivers terrific length. This is a big but seamlessly well-balanced effort that should also amply repay extended cellaring." (92-94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2016)

Estimate: $2,000-$2,600

Starting Bid: $1,600

7      Musigny 1990

Vieilles Vignes, Comte de Vogue

nl, #12639

Bottle (1)

"The Bordeaux-like, saturated dense ruby/purple color is followed by a tight-fisted nose and flavors of black fruits, underbrush, minerals, smoke, and new oak. Although extremely concentrated, the wine is broodingly backward, and not fun to drink... yet. This loaded effort should prove to be one of the longest-lived red Burgundies made in the last twenty years." (96 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2002)

Estimate: $600-$800

Starting Bid: $475

8      La Tache 2013

Domaine de la Romanee Conti

#02174

Bottle (1)

"Deep ruby. Once again a highly reticent nose only grudgingly gives up discreet, if attractively perfumed, notes of rose petal, spice and an ultra-pure assortment of red berry fruit scents. Like the Riche this possesses that wonderful inner mouth perfume that makes the Vosne grand crus justifiably so famous. There is wonderful intensity to the sleek big-bodied flavors that display plenty of punch and authority on the impeccably well-balanced and hugely long and very firmly structured finish. While La Tâche is often a very powerful wine, the 2013 version seems particularly so and it would be accurately described as a beautiful combination of power and refinement." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2016)

Estimate: $3,750-$4,750

Starting Bid: $3,000

Romanee St. Vivant 2005

#14621

Bottle (1)

"An incredibly perfumed and supremely elegant if notably ripe nose features notes of various black fruit scents that are replete with soy, hoisin, clove and anise nuances. There is outstanding power and richness to the refined, detailed and still quite firmly structured flavors that culminate in a precise, pure and driving finish that goes on and on. This is a really impressive effort that offers terrific potential but fans of this wine should note that it is arguably more masculine than it usually is yet at the same time utterly seamless. In sum this is arguably the finest RSV that the Domaine has ever produced though one that is indisputably going to require extended aging." (97 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, April 2024)

Estimate: $2,600-$3,500

Starting Bid: $2,000

10

Batard Montrachet 2019

Domaine Leflaive

Bottle (1)

"The 2019 Bâtard-Montrachet Grand Cru shows a little more clarity, a touch more crystalline on the nose compared to the Bienvenue, scents of Granny Smith apples, petrichor and gunflint. It is controlled and penetrating. The palate is extremely well balanced with a fine silver bead of acidity that cuts through the concentrated malic fruit, a dash of pepper towards the finish that fans out gloriously, sour lemon and grapefruit lingering on the aftertaste. Wonderful." (96 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, October 2021)

Estimate: $850-$1,200

Starting Bid: $650

Lot 13

- 13    Chateau Petrus 1982
Pomerol
bn, hbsl, ll, nl, wasl, lwrl
Bottle (1)
"...the colour is deeper, slightly more opaque. The bouquet is certainly tighter and more youthful with a little earthiness and singed leather infusing the dark berry fruit, later joined by a scintilla of shucked oyster shell. The palate is wonderful: fine tannin, perfectly pitched acidity, great depth and complexity than bottle examples. It felt almost flinty in the mouth, quite linear and direct with a very persistent finish." (97 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Sep. 2018)
Estimate: $2,600-$3,500

- 14    Heitz Cellars Cabernet Sauvignon 1974
Martha's Vineyard
vhs, hbsl, nl, tl, lcc, nc, ssos
Bottle (1)
"The 1974 Heitz Cellar Cabernet Sauvignon Martha's Vineyard has long been a Napa Valley Icon. For those who have not tasted it, this bottle shows why. Still vibrant and poised, the 1974 offers up red cherry fruit, dried herbs, sage, licorice and blood orange, all driven by bright acids that suggest ageability from this point on will be determined by storage and corks, as the wine itself is pretty near immortal." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, April 2022)
Estimate: $1,500-$2,000

Lot 14

- 17 Chateau Lafite Rothschild 2000
Pauillac
Bottle (2)
"The 2000 Lafite-Rothschild is deep in color. It has a beautifully defined bouquet of blackberry, cedar and mint, still quite closed but very focused. There is a lot of power here, but maybe not the same level of elegance as other vintages. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins, firm grip, very nicely judged acidity and good density on the finish. This is quite backward and muscular at the moment, although aeration/decanting shaves some of its edges. It's just beginning to open and improves with time in the glass." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Sept. 2021)

- 19 Chateau Margaux 1990
Margaux
1bn, 1ts, 1fl, different importers
Bottle (2)
"The 1990 Chateau Margaux is really beginning to hit its stride at age 31, soaring from the glass with aromas of blackberries and cassis mingled with notions of licorice, cedar and violets, framed by subtle hints of vanilla and spice. Full-bodied, deep and multidimensional, it's seamless and complete, its velvety tannins and ripe acids entirely cloaked in a lavish but vibrant core of fruit. This is an especially dramatic, fleshy rendition of Margaux, yet it remains impeccably balanced and has decades of longevity ahead of it." (100 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2022)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100
- 20 Chateau Mouton Rothschild 1986
Pauillac
hs, lbsl, nl, lscl
Bottle (1)
"The 1986 Mouton-Rothschild is a blend of 80% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Merlot, 8% Cabernet Franc and 2% Petit Verdot that was picked from 2 October until 16 October. Winemaker Philippe Dhalluin, who was not working at the property back then, told me that the pH was fairly low at 3.54 when it is usually around 3.75, due to the natural tartaric acid in the vines. It has a powerful and intense bouquet as always: exemplary graphite and cedar scents, a touch of black pepper and incense. It seems to unfurl in the glass, like a motor revving its engine. The palate is beautifully balanced with its trademark firm tannic structure, a Mouton-Rothschild with backbone and masculinity. Layers of black fruit intermingling with mint and graphite, a hint of licorice emanating from the Merlot, gently fanning out and my God, it is incredibly long. It is not like the 1985 Mouton-Rothschild that is so fleshy and generous. This is serious, aristocratic Mouton, a true vin de garde and yes, I do think drinkers will have to wait until it reaches its true peak. Sometimes that's just the way it is." (100 pts. Neal Martin, Wine Advocate, Dec. 2016)
Estimate: $550-$750
Starting Bid: $425
- 21 Chateau Mouton Rothschild 2000
Pauillac
Bottle (2)
"Deep garnet colored with a touch of brick, the 2000 Mouton Rothschild (composed of 86% Cabernet Sauvignon and 14% Merlot) boldly bursts from the glass with tantalizing Black Forest cake, dried mulberries, kirsch and blackcurrant pastilles notes plus wafts of iodine, incense, potpourri and cinnamon stick with a hint of cigar boxes. Medium to full-bodied, the palate packs in the muscular fruit, framed by firm, ripe, grainy tannins and seamless freshness, finishing with phenomenal length. This is an incredibly complex and multifaceted wine, and it's drinking deliciously now. This said, I can't help but feel that it is holding something back, that it still has another layer of opulence and seduction to reveal in its tight-knit fruit and solid structure. I personally can't wait to see how this beauty will continue to unfold over the years to come." (97+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2019)
Estimate: $2,200-$3,000
Starting Bid: $1,700
- 22 Chateau Petrus 1989
Pomerol
Bottle (1)
"The 1989 Petrus is consistent with previous bottles in the sense that it represents the apotheosis of not only the vineyard, but of Pomerol itself. It still provides that almost surreal cornucopia of aromas, red fruit melted with tar, tobacco, hints of camphor and ash, all delivered with astonishing precision. The palate is perfectly balanced, intense yet paradoxically weightless. This example is one of the finest I have encountered in terms of clarity and precision. Ethereal. If you want to taste a genuine 100-point wine then step this way. Magnificent!" (100 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, July 2020)
Estimate: $3,000-$4,000
Starting Bid: $2,400
- 23 Chateau Petrus 1995
Pomerol
ll
Bottle (1)
"The 1995 Petrus is one of the finest vintages of the decade, a silver medal behind the brilliant 1998. This bottles might well constitute the best that I have ever encountered. It has a beautiful, focused nose with hints of game and humidor infusing the black fruit. With aeration more red fruit becomes evident, allied with a touch of roasted chestnut. The palate is supremely well balanced, slightly gamey and with impressive grip. There is a bit of chutzpah about this Petrus, the way in which it fans out towards the finish. You could broach bottles now, although this example suggests that it is going to be very interesting to follow over the next 20 years." (97 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Jan. 2019)
Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
Starting Bid: $1,500

Lots 22-28

24 Chateau Petrus 1999

Pomerol
lbsl, lwasl
Bottle (1)

"Made by Jean-Claude Berrouet (with his son Olivier then training at Haut-Brion), the 1999 Pétrus was harvested in early September. It offers some of the best aromatics of the vintage in Pomerol, with lovely red berry fruit and black truffle, almost Burgundian in style and beautifully defined. The palate is medium-bodied with plenty of freshness and definition, touches of black truffle and sage infusing the red fruit. The limitations of the growing season perhaps show on the slightly conservative finish, but this still ranks among the better Pomerols of the vintage. 'Fine and delicate,' Olivier Berrouet remarked during the tasting, and I concur." (92 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Sept. 2019)

Estimate: $1,700-$2,400
Starting Bid: $1,300

25 Chateau Petrus 2002

Pomerol
lscl
Bottle (1)

"Lustrous dark crimson. Liquorice notes and some real sumptuousness on the nose. Very rich and ripe. This was the easiest wine to identify. The sweetness and exotic nature is hard to resist." (18.5/20 Jancis Robinson, Nov. 2012)

Estimate: $1,800-$2,400
Starting Bid: $1,400

26 Chateau Petrus 2012

Pomerol
Bottle (1)

"The 2012 Petrus has a slightly higher-toned bouquet than its peers: scents of brambly red fruit and briary, liquorice and dried herbs. This gains complexity in the glass, and a second bottle at Bordeaux Index's 10-Year-On, given two hours to open, develops some gorgeous pure plummy fruit. The palate is medium-bodied, fleshy, ripe and harmonious with pliant tannins and a little more obvious oak towards the sensual finish, white pepper and thyme lingering on the aftertaste. Wonderful." (95 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Feb. 2022)

Estimate: $2,000-$2,600
Starting Bid: $1,600

27 Chateau Petrus 2013

Pomerol
Bottle (3)

"The difficulties of the vintage are hardly evident here. Very deep in colour, the wine is dense and opulent on the nose, with black cherry aromas. It's ripe and solid, rich and very concentrated, showing ample force and extraction. For 2013 it's powerful and has some grandeur and is quite unlike the other Pomerols here. Spicy, imposing and long." (95 pts. Stephen Brook, Decanter, Feb. 2023)

Estimate: $5,500-$7,500
Starting Bid: $4,250

- 28 Chateau Petrus 2017
 Pomerol
 Bottle (2)
"Deep garnet-purple in color, the 2017 Petrus comes galloping out of the glass with bold, expressive notions of Black Forest cake, blueberry preserves and Christmas pudding with nuances of molten chocolate, Chinese five spice, candied violets, licorice and kirsch plus wafts of roses and cinnamon stick. Full-bodied, rich, spicy and fantastically concentrated, the palate has compelling freshness and a solid base of wonderfully ripe, velvety tannins, finishing very long and opulent. The aromatics at this youthful stage are atypical for Petrus and quite stunning—this 2017 is a bombshell! Furthermore, it is a unique style for this estate and one avid collectors should seek out!" (98+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, March 2020)
 Estimate: $3,750-$4,750
 Starting Bid: $3,000
- 29 Echezeaux 2007
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 n1, #01603
 Bottle (1)
"A highly expressive, spicy and appealingly complex nose offers up fresh aromas of red berry fruit, floral nuances and soft Asian-style tea notes. The beautifully well-detailed, balanced and energetic flavors possess excellent transparency on the vibrant and mouth coating if slightly spritzzy finish. As was the case when I first reviewed this (see herein), there is a lingering inner mouth perfume that serves to make this most attractive and while this isn't a great Echézeaux in the context of the Domaine, it is undeniably pretty. Note that for my taste, this isn't quite at its peak though it's not so far away that it couldn't be enjoyed now. Tasted several times over the past few years with consistent results." (91 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2021)
 Estimate: $1,800-$2,400
 Starting Bid: $1,400
- 30 Echezeaux 2014
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 lscl, #02234
 Bottle (1)
"A wonderfully complex nose features a broad array of spice elements with those of plum, violet, sandalwood and Asian-style tea that are also trimmed in soft wood nuances. There is good punch to the refined, cool and pure medium-bodied flavors that possess better concentration on the balanced, persistent and youthfully austere finale where the only nit is a very subtle hint of warmth. Of all of the wines in the Domaine's portfolio, in my view the Ech is the most improved over the last 10 years and it shows as the 2014 is bigger and more powerful than usual." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2017)
 Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
 Starting Bid: $1,500
- 31 Echezeaux 2017
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 lscl, #00038
 Magnum (1)
"A completely different nose offers up much spicier and slightly toastier aromas of red currant, pomegranate, sandalwood and an interesting hint of incense. There is excellent vibrancy to the attractively textured middle weight flavors that don't have the minerality of the Corton but do offer slightly better depth and precision on the lingering finale that is shaped by relatively fine-grained tannins. This should be approachable a bit earlier than usual." (93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2020)
 Estimate: $4,500-$6,000
 Starting Bid: $3,500
- 32 Echezeaux 2018
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #00021
 Magnum (1)
"Subtle but perceptible wood toast frames the very ripe yet again quite fresh aromas of poached plum, dark currant and a broad array of spice elements. There is fine density to the bold medium weight plus flavors that brim with dry extract that buffers the beautifully long and youthfully austere finish that flashes a touch of sweetness. This is a big and highly complex Ech, indeed the word robust applies but I very much like the evident development potential, and speaking of which, this is also going to need extended patience." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2021)
 Estimate: $4,750-$6,000
 Starting Bid: $3,750
- 33 Echezeaux 2020
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 2lscl
 Bottle (2)
"An exuberantly spicy and wonderfully floral nose exhibits additional aromas of poached plum, mocha, jasmine tea and an interesting hint of tangerine peel. The rich, concentrated and powerful bigger-bodied flavors possess an absolutely gorgeous mouthfeel thanks to the abundance of sappy dry extract that also buffers the firm core of ripe tannins shaping the stunningly long finish. This actually isn't quite as refined as the Petits Monts, but it is definitely more powerful and imposing, as well as slightly more structured." (95 pts Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2023)
 Estimate: $3,750-$4,750
 Starting Bid: $3,000

- 34 Grands Echezeaux 2007
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #01260
 Bottle (1)
"A more densely fruited nose that is intensely floral in character and notably more complex as well intermingles with more subtle spice and earth notes as well as notes of game, jerky and tea, most of which are picked up by the fresh, intense, powerful and moderately well muscled big-bodied flavors that possess an attractive mouth feel and solid finishing depth. This possesses ample dry extract that renders the firm tannins almost invisible at present but I suspect the buffering effect will not last long before this shuts down. This is an understated effort that isn't especially dense or powerful, at least not by the usual superb standards of this wine, but the balance is nigh-on perfect." (91 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2010)
 Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
 Starting Bid: $1,500
- 35 Grands Echezeaux 2015
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 1tl, #02082, 02437
 Bottle (2)
"This is notably more floral as well as more restrained and what is interesting is that even though the violet-inflected fruit profile is just as ripe, it runs toward the red side of the spectrum while displaying a similar variety of spice components that includes a hint of sandalwood. This too is impressively constituted but despite the power and concentration the broad-shouldered flavors retain plenty of underlying tension as well as lovely precision before culminating in a massively long, balanced and harmonious if youthfully austere finale where the only nit is a hint of warmth. By the usual standards of this wine I would not describe the 2015 version as massive though at the same time it is beautifully proportioned." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2018)
 Estimate: $4,250-$5,500
 Starting Bid: $3,250
- 36 Grands Echezeaux 2017
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #00543
 Bottle (1)
"A cool, elegant and spicy, if still somewhat restrained, nose of mostly red fruits and Asian-style tea along with a whiff of hoisin. As is typically the case there is very good size and weight to the broad-shouldered flavors that are shaped by firm yet reasonably fine-grained tannins on the impressively persistent finish. This is not as concentrated or powerful as it usually is, though to be fair, what 2017s are? Even so, this is still going to require the better part of 10 years to reach its apogee." (93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, March 2025)
 Estimate: $2,000-$2,600
 Starting Bid: $1,600
- 37 Grands Echezeaux 2019
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #01367, 01392, 01419, 01603, 01606-01608
 Bottle (7)
"Once again, the nose is super-floral with ripe but airy and elegant aromas of various dark berries, star anise, dried tangerine peel, warm earth and a plethora of spice elements. As is virtually always the case, there is better size, weight and muscle present on the broad-shouldered flavors that delivers stunningly good length on the equally compact and beautifully well-balanced finale. There is superb complexity and overall, this is breathtakingly good though as always with this wine, be prepared to allow for ample bottle age as the supporting tannic spine is very firm. Magnificent." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2022)
 Estimate: $15,000-$20,000
 Starting Bid: $12,000
- 38 Grands Echezeaux 2020
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 Bottle (1)
"More restrained, ripe and exceptionally fresh aromas are comprised by notes of beautifully spicy red and dark berry fruit, violet, sandalwood and exotic tea nuances. The succulent, round and incredibly intense large-scaled flavors are not denser, but they are patently more powerful while delivering stunningly good length on the very firm and youthfully austere finale. This isn't as refined as the Ech, indeed it is almost rustic by comparison, but it exhibits even greater persistence. Moreover, it is clearly built-to-age and is a wine that should age gracefully for several decades." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2023)
 Estimate: $2,000-$2,600
 Starting Bid: $1,600
- 39 La Tache 2002
 Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 cc, #02355
 Bottle (1)
"Even at 20+ years of age, this is still rather reserved though determined swirling reveals a nose that is exceptionally fine and pure with fantastic aromatic detail and an almost diaphanous transparency of expression that reveals all of the kaleidoscopic La Tache spice box nose, including anise, clove, plums, high-toned black cherry, crushed red raspberry and more. The broad, expansive and powerful flavors are still quite firm if not hard yet the strikingly long finish is round, generous, sappy and superbly complex. Despite the aromatic fireworks and firm supporting tannins, there is an underlying tenderness here that allows the '02 LT to be approachable now even if it's not entirely ready. With that said, the balance is so fine that this should easily age for another 30 years, perhaps even longer. Tasted six times since 2011 with consistent notes." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, March 2025)
 Estimate: $4,750-$6,000
 Starting Bid: $3,750

La Tache 2007

Domaine de la Romanee Conti
lscI, #02289
Bottle (1)

"An intensely floral and ultra-fresh and spicy nose combines notes of various red berries, Asian-style tea and wisps of sandalwood. There is moderately good density to the delicious and intensely mineral-driven medium-bodied flavors that possess excellent delineation on the driving and still somewhat youthfully austere finish. Compared to what is normal for La Tâche, 2007 is a lighter-weight vintage, though I underscore that this is a dense wine in the context relative to the typical 2007. While the '07 LT could certainly be enjoyed now, especially if given 30 minutes or so of air, to my taste it is still clearly on the way up and would best be held for another 5 to 7 years first. Consistent notes." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2019)

La Tache 2010

Domaine de la Romanee Conti
lscI, #03173
Bottle (1)

"An ultra-pure, cool and remarkably elegant mix of wonderfully spicy, red and blue pinot fruit, red currant and wild red berries that are openly floral in character. The overtly stony flavors are shaped by notably firm yet extremely fine tannins and while there is ample power and vibrancy, the palate feel is all silk and satin. To be sure, this is a big wine with impressive concentration but 2010 is a vintage for La Tâche of refinement and polish if not exactly finesse. Even so, it's still going to require some 20 to 25 years of cellar time before it reaches its full majority but when it does, it will be considered one of the all-time great vintages for this incredibly storied wine." (98 pts. "Deep ruby. Once again a highly reticent nose only grudgingly gives up discreet, if attractively perfumed, notes of rose petal, spice and an ultra-pure assortment of red berry fruit scents. Like the Riche this possesses that wonderful inner mouth perfume that makes the Vosne grand crus justifiably so famous. There is wonderful intensity to the sleek big-bodied flavors that display plenty of punch and authority on the impeccably well-balanced and hugely long and very firmly structured finish. While La Tâche is often a very powerful wine, the 2013 version seems particularly so and it would be accurately described as a beautiful combination of power and refinement." (95 pts. "Fireworks in a glass would be the operative description of the super-fresh nose of the 2014 La Tâche and while it's not necessarily spicier or more floral than the Riche, there is a broader range of elements present and in particular better overall aromatic depth along with more red fruits than dark. The imposingly powerful and tautly muscular flavors possess outstanding mid-palate density while simultaneously offering excellent delineation on the intensely mineral-infused, youthfully austere and very firmly structured finish that just goes on and on. While I suspect that this will drink reasonably well after only 15 to 18 years of bottle age note well that if you want to drink it when fully mature it will require in the range of 20 to 25 years of cellaring." (96 pts. *"As is often the case in its youth, this easily possesses the most aromatic breadth of any wine in the range with an utterly kaleidoscopic nose that incorporates notes of Asian spice box elements, rose petal, lavender, lilac, orange pekoe tea and sandalwood. There is superb richness to the powerfully constituted flavors that possess outstanding delineation and intensity while displaying perhaps even more minerality than usual, all wrapped in a mildly warm finish that slowly fans out as it sits on the palate. This is one classy wine that manages to do what only the greatest of burgundies can, which is to wow you with its power without weight mouth palate impression. And if all of this weren't enough, the refinement and poise here are nothing short of riveting. While I am very careful when it comes to proclaiming that such and such a vintage of La Tâche will go down as one of the all-time greats, the 2015 version appears to have the potential to be one of them. The mouthfeel of the rich, concentrated and powerful large-bodied flavors is surprisingly supple while retaining the hallmark minerality that seems to build on the extravagantly long finish that also just goes and goes. There is a hint of backend warmth but it's not enough to materially detract from the overall sense of harmony. I would add that while the tannins are dense, they are pliant and while I'm not recommending it, this could actually be enjoyed now. There is a beguiling sense of underlying tension to the supple and almost easy-going mid-palate of the deceptively forward medium-bodied flavors that progressively tighten up on the dusty, exceptionally stony and saline if ever-so-mildly warm finish that flashes excellent depth and superb persistence as well as plenty of youthful austerity. Once again, the texture of the rich and impressively concentrated broad-shouldered flavors is super-sleek, and they too exude an almost pungent minerality on the clean, bright and exceptionally persistent finale where the only nit is a touch of backend warmth. Despite being very firmly structured, the mid-palate density is such that this could probably be approached after only 12 to 15 years. Occasionally, La Tâche gives immediate pleasure, but the 2022 is more contained and reserved—it hides its secrets well. Eventually, the 2022 offers a mélange of red and black fruit, Earl Grey and undergrowth. Interestingly, there remains a patina of whole-cluster herbal notes that will be subsumed with time, though obviously that indicates this is not a La Tâche primed for early drinking. The palate is medium-bodied with finely chiseled tannins and a killer spine of acidity that lends a frisson of tension from start to finish. ## Lots 73-75

74 Corton Charlemagne 2020

Domaine de la Romanée Conti

2lscl, 1tl, 1lwasl

Bottle (5)

"There is enough wood to merit mentioning but not so much as to overshadow the vaguely exotic and ripe aromas of white peach, apple compote, various citrus elements and a whiff of acacia blossom. The wood is also reflected by the big-bodied, powerful and overtly muscular flavors that possess outstanding richness that is buffered by both a firm minerality as well as bright acidity on the strikingly persistent, balanced and robust finale. This is not a CC of refinement but it is indisputably impressive in its fashion and a wine that should age and improve gracefully over the next 12 to 15 years and last thereafter for a similar period. In a word, superb." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2023)

Estimate: $20,000-$28,000

Starting Bid: $16,000

75 Corton Charlemagne 2022

Domaine de la Romanée Conti

Bottle (3)

"Much like its 2023 counterpart, the expressive and ripe nose display plenty of wood influence on the ripe aromas of mostly spicy white orchard fruit and mineral reduction. On the palate the impressively scaled broad-shouldered flavors are lavishly rich and opulent with palate soaking dry extract though importantly, the firm acid spine keeps everything in the proper balance on the seductive and highly persistent finale. This is certainly built to repay a decade plus of cellaring but again like the 2023, it's not so backward that it couldn't be reasonably approached after only 5 to 7 years." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2025)

Estimate: $11,000-$14,000

Starting Bid: $8,500

Lots 76-81

76 Montrachet 2010

Domaine de la Romanée Conti

#00023, 00065

Bottle (2)

"Even at 13 years of age, the nose remains strikingly fresh with its ripe and airy aromas of moderately exotic white and yellow fruit where additional notes of acacia blossom, citrus, pain grillé, citrus zest and fennel hints can be appreciated. There is superb size, weight and detail to the broad-shouldered and breathtakingly concentrated flavors that completely coat the mouth with dry extract before culminating in a driving, precise and linear finish where the only reproach worth mentioning is a trace of warmth. This is a great DRC Montrachet that is just approaching its peak though a few more years of keeping should prove beneficial. Remarkable." (97 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Nov. 2023)

Estimate: $15,000-$20,000

Starting Bid: $12,000

77 Montrachet 2011

Domaine de la Romanée Conti

Iscl, #00303

Bottle (1)

"A notably ripe nose displays hints of exoticism with its dried yellow orchard fruit, pear, white peach, pekoe tea and elegant floral aromas. There is seriously impressive richness, volume, concentration and power to the muscular full-bodied flavors that brim with palate coating dry extract. Interestingly the mid-palate is almost soft yet the explosive and hugely long finish tightens up quickly as the markedly firm acid spine shapes and infuses it with a sense of underlying tension." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2014)

Estimate: $6,500-$8,500

Starting Bid: $5,000

- 78 Montrachet 2013
Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #00339
 Bottle (1)
"A whiff of post-bottling reduction does little to detract from the strikingly well-layered and ever-so-mildly exotic fruit, white flower and softly wooded nose. The super-rich and full-bodied yet beautifully delineated flavors possess a borderline painful intensity along with a taut muscularity before culminating a focused, tightly wound and powerful finale that really fans out as it sits on the palate. Moreover this markedly dry but not really austere effort is what I describe as sneaky long because just as the finish appears to be dying away it suddenly come back and plays hide and seek with your palate." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2016)
 Estimate: $6,000-$8,000
 Starting Bid: $4,750
- 79 Montrachet 2014
Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 1(4cm), 1lwasl, 1ssos, #00412, 02733
 Bottle (2)
"A whiff of the exotic can be found on the notably ripe and beautifully layered nose that reflects notes of honey, citrus, spice, oak and a touch of matchstick character. There is superb size, weight and minerality to the impressively scaled big-bodied flavors that are so dense that there is a distinctly lavish and lush mouth feel to them, all wrapped in an explosive and almost painfully intense finish that really fans out as it sits on the palate. While I do note the presence of a hint of exoticism on the nose, I would observe that the 2014 Montrachet is less exotic than it usually is. I also suspect that despite being quite tightly wound today, it will be more accessible young than many vintages of this storied wine. Lastly, I had the occasion to try this twice and both bottles showed similarly." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2017)
 Estimate: $15,000-$20,000
 Starting Bid: $12,000
- 80 Montrachet 2015
Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 #00248
 Bottle (1)
"The exotic, even tropical nose reflects notes of petrol and wood along with lychee nut, melon, white peach, mango, floral and discreet citrus wisps. The broad-shouldered and impressively dense, bold and muscular flavors coat the palate with seemingly buckets of dry extract that easily buffers the very firm acid spine shaping the surprisingly dry finish (in the context of what is typical for the 2015 vintage) on the hugely long finish where the only nit is a hint of warmth. This is excellent and very much in the DRC style." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2018)
 Estimate: $7,000-$9,000
 Starting Bid: $5,500
- 81 Montrachet 2020
Domaine de la Romanee Conti
 Iscl
 Bottle (1)
"A more subtle though still easily perceptible application of oak still easily allows the markedly spicier and prominent petrol scents to be appreciated. The exceptionally rich, concentrated and impressively constituted broad-shouldered yet refined flavors display outstanding power and drive on the focused, firm and hugely long finish. This is an opulent Montrachet but one that is clearly built to repay extended keeping. One of the great wines of the 2020 vintage that should age and improve over the next 30 to 40 years. In short, this is positively brilliant." (98 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2023)
 Estimate: $6,500-$8,500
 Starting Bid: $5,000
- 82 Salon Vintage Champagne 1996
Le Mesnil
 Iscl
 Bottle (1)
"This bottle of the 1996 Blanc de Blancs Le Mesnil Brut was drinking superbly and represents the apotheosis of Blanc de Blancs, unfurling over the course of three hours with a stunningly complex bouquet of citrus oil, confit lemon, dried white flowers and oyster shell, with hints of praline and pastry cream becoming more pronounced as the wine opens up in the glass. On the palate, it's medium to full-bodied, deep and multidimensional, defined by the incisive spine so typical of the vintage that, here, is cloaked in layers of crisp fleshy and chalky extract. The finish is long, penetrating and saline." (99 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2019)
 Estimate: $950-$1,300
 Starting Bid: $750

Lots 82, 229

- 83 Salon Vintage Champagne 2012
 Le Mesnil
 1lsl
 Bottle (4)
"Back in 2014, Salon's president Didier Depond was quoted in the press as saying that 'since 2008, there has been no genuinely great vintage in Champagne' and that a 2012 from Salon wouldn't be released. But the just-released 2012 Brut Blanc de Blancs Le Mesnil shows that he had good reason to change his mind, as to my palate this is, after the 2008, the finest Salon produced this millennium. Unwinding in the glass with notes of citrus oil, wet stones, freshly baked bread, white currants and oyster shell, it's full-bodied, deep and concentrated, with a tightly wound core of fruit, racy acids and an elegant pinpoint mousse. Concluding with a long and resonant finish, this is a structured and powerful Salon that's a lot more incisive than, for example, the 2002 at the same stage, but which also carries more muscle and substance than a leaner vintage such as 2007." (98+ pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Sept. 2021)
 Estimate: $3,000-$4,000
 Starting Bid: $2,400
- 84 Salon Vintage Champagne 2013
 Le Mesnil
 Bottle (2)
"Dense and explosive, the 2013 Salon is a huge wine that possesses almost shocking textural richness for such a young Salon. It offers a perfect example of the vintage in the Côte des Blancs, a year in which both ripeness and acids were elevated. Lemon confit, marzipan, white flowers, mint and white pepper explode onto the palate, while bright saline notes pull everything back together on the finish. Dosage is 4.5 grams per liter." (99 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2024)
 Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
 Starting Bid: $1,100
- 85 Salon Vintage Champagne 2013
 Le Mesnil
 5nl, 1lsl
 Bottle (12)
"It is, of course, hugely exciting to meet each new vintage of Salon blindly with good champagne-savvy friends. That's how I met this beauty too. Reviews differed, with several finding the wine too developed and soft, while others praised the approachability and class. I am not entirely convinced that I understood the champagne completely correctly. It is clear, however, that the style is more directly appealing and less acidic than before, with a Grand Siècle-like texture and aroma profile. At the same time, there is super-concentrated Mesnil fruit and a velvet carpet that is extremely rare for this light and stylish year. Don't be afraid to stock up as you usually do with Salon, but we'll let the future tell how big the profit is." (97 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, Nov. 2025)
 Estimate: $8,000-$11,000
 Starting Bid: $6,000
- 86 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2012
 Bottle (1)
"The 2012 Harlan Estate is reminiscent of their 2002. Probably a candidate for perfection with another 4-5 years of bottle age, the wine is inky plum/purple to the rim and offers a gorgeous nose of scorched earth, blackberry and cassis, forest floor, and a floral, lavender-like component followed by deep, opulent, majestic flavors that caress the palate with high but sweet tannin. This is relatively evolved, and supple and voluptuous for a young Harlan estate – hence the comparison with their compelling 2002. This wine can be drunk in several years and is likely another candidate for 30-50 years of cellaring." (99+ pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2015)
 Estimate: $700-$900
 Starting Bid: $550
- 87 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2016
 nl
 Magnum (1)
"The deep garnet-purple colored 2016 Harlan Estate comes charging out of the glass, brandishing bold, opulent blackberry pie, warm cassis and blueberry preserves notes with hints of cigar box, Indian spices, crushed rocks and forest floor plus fragrant accents of lavender and black tea. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is built like a brick house, with a solid line of super ripe, grainy tannins and oodles of freshness supporting the layer upon layer of savory and earth-inspired notions, finishing on a lingering mineral note. Impressively structured, incredibly nuanced and possessing all this latent tension, this brazen beauty is set to live for a good 60 years and possibly more!" (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Sept. 2019)
 Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
 Starting Bid: $1,500
- 88 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2018
 crc
 Magnum (1)
"The 2018 Harlan Estate is deep, plush and full of potential. But potential is the key word here, as the 2018 is also very reticent today. Its depth, power and pedigree are all obviously apparent. It is an atypical wine for Napa, as the acids, tannin and structure are all pretty prominent. Hints of black cherry, gravel, spice, menthol and lavender gradually open with some coaxing. The 2018 is a remarkable wine. I remember tasting it for the first time in Spring 2019, when it came across as a bit light. Perhaps that was a reflection of early blending and a wine that had not bounced back from that. Since then, the 2018 has gained in richness and volume, while retaining the finessed style that is such a signature here these days." (98+ pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, October 2021)
 Estimate: $1,600-$2,000
 Starting Bid: $1,200

89 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2019

Bottle (2)

"The head-spinning 2019 Harlan Estate is truly amazing stuff. Gentle cedar notes lead into layered dark chocolate and cassis, somehow impossibly rich yet savory. Full-bodied, concentrated and supple, this is dense, packed with flavor but seemingly weightless, with a lush, lingering finish that combines intensity with freshness to compel sip after sip. Like all truly great wines, it's full of somehow harmonious contradictions." (100 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, March 2023)

Estimate: $1,900-$2,600

Starting Bid: $1,500

90 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2020

Bottle (1)

"Blackberry, chocolate, walnut, hazelnut, graphite, and light tar. Then goes to seaweed and umami. Cassis. Full-bodied, but so agile and featherlight with bay leaf, berry and very fine tannins. Endless. The finish caresses every inch of your palate. Thought-provoking and meditative. Extremely long and seamless finish. Better after 2029." (99 pts. James Suckling, March 2023)

Estimate: $750-$950

Starting Bid: $600

91 Screaming Eagle Cabernet Sauvignon 2003

Bottle (1)

"This 2003 was showing spectacularly well, and based on my recollection, I think I may have liked it even more than the 2002, which is the reverse of how I felt a decade ago. One of the biggest (14.6% alcohol) wines made by Screaming Eagle during this period, it boasts an opaque ruby/purple color as well as classic, pure, creme de cassis, cedarwood and hints of Asian soy sauce and forest floor notes. The multidimensional aromatics are followed by a full-bodied, silky-textured, opulent, rich, atypically big wine that is impeccably well-balanced. It is just starting to come into its own. Four to five more years in the cellar will prove magical, and this 2003 is one of the candidates for the wine of the vintage. It should last another 20+ years." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, June 2013)

Starting Bid: $1,400

lscl
Bottle (1)
"The 2019 Screaming Eagle is a wine of mind-blowing elegance and finesse that stand apart from the generally more potent style of so many wines in this vintage. Deep, sensual and beautifully layered, the 2019 is simply magnificent from the very first taste. A whole range of red/purplish fruit, spice, leather, dried herb and blood orange accents give the 2019 its vivid, wonderfully detailed personality. Because of its price, both on release and in the secondary market, Screaming Eagle is the most talked about wine in Napa Valley. It is hype or not? All I can say is that I was very fortunate to drink a number of older vintages during lockdown and all those wines lived up to their reputations." (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Jan. 2022)

"The 1982 Cheval Blanc is a sumptuous, sensual wine, bursting with aromas of sweet raspberries, orange rind, dried flowers, cedar box, black truffles, vine smoke and menthol. Medium to full-bodied, ample and enveloping, it's supple and seamless, with a fleshy mid-palate, melting tannins and a long, expansive finish. As is often the case at this address, at age 40, it's the wine's Cabernet Franc component that really dominates its personality, meaning that it gratifies the intellect as completely as it does the senses. I've drunk the 1982 Cheval three times this year, and it has been remarkably consistently brilliant." (99 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Dec. 2022)

 Bottle (12)
"Fragrant floral notes, the most muscular of the two 1989s, with plenty of power. Cos is known for its exoticism, and a hot year like 1989 helps to draw out that side of things, with fruitcake, olive tapenade, fennel and black pepper spices, and a smoky caramel edge to the finish. Plenty of St-Estèphe signature, and a showcase for how Cabernet Sauvignon ages so slowly on these gravel-clay soils on the borders of Pauillac. Bruno Prats was owner at the time, as we are here a full 11 years before the arrival of Michel Reybier. Likely to have been over 50 hl/ha yield, as this was an extremely abundant year—and provided the highest natural alcohol on record at the time, with no chaptalisation. 100% new oak. There is a youthful feel to this Cos, but it is less nuanced than Pavie (I would suggest choosing the 1990 Cos if given the choice between the two). Still plenty of life ahead, when it may gain extra complexity—never count these out." (93 pts. Jane Anson, Sept. 2021)

"The 1934 Lafite-Rothschild, which I have tasted on two or three occasions, must surely be the best vintage of that challenging decade. From the very first bottle that I ever tasted, the 1934 displays all the harmony and elegance you would expect considering its age. Better bottles have been later: generous and (for Lafite-Rothschild) exotic on the nose with orange de sanguine and stewed apricot. The palate is medium-bodied and in common with the 1924, almost like a Pinot Noir in terms of texture and tannin profile. The 1934 is imbued with an almost citric freshness on the finish. In decline, but clinging on!" (91 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Feb. 2018)

Given that this is a First Growth, it does miss a bit of cohesion and horsepower. The palate is medium-bodied with finely chiseled tannins and a keen thread of acidity, pliant and gentle, gaining weight towards the sour cherry- and pencil lead-infused finish."* (92 pts. "Tasting the 1990 Latour is like running into a long-lost friend. Still dark, deep and spectacularly flamboyant, the 1990 possesses remarkable textural richness from the very first taste. Time in the glass brings out a whole range of pencil shaving, dark fruit, chocolate, licorice and spice flavors, but more than anything else, the 1990 is a wine of pure and total voluptuousness. While I never think of wine as a competition, the 1990 is quite a bit more complex, layered and intriguing than the 1982 served alongside it at the same charity dinner. Its longevity will ultimately be determined by the quality of the cork and storage conditions, as the wine has several decades of truly exceptional drinking still to offer. In a word: magnificent!" (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Nov. 2019)

108 Chateau Margaux 1990

Margaux

2bn, 3ts, 1nl, 4lscl, different importers

Bottle (6)

"The 1990 Château Margaux is really beginning to hit its stride at age 31, soaring from the glass with aromas of blackberries and cassis mingled with notions of licorice, cedar and violets, framed by subtle hints of vanilla and spice. Full-bodied, deep and multidimensional, it's seamless and complete, its velvety tannins and ripe acids entirely cloaked in a lavish but vibrant core of fruit. This is an especially dramatic, fleshy rendition of Margaux, yet it remains impeccably balanced and has decades of longevity ahead of it." (100 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2022)

Estimate: $4,000-$5,000

Starting Bid: $3,000

109 Chateau Montrose 1990

St. Estephe

1bn, 3lsl

Bottle (9)

"The 1990 Montrose is notoriously unpredictable, veering from monumental to misfire between bottles. This is definitely the former. It has an intense nose and yes, unmistakably there is some Brettanomyces, though it politely remains in the background and allows those lovely black fruit, loam and iris flower scents to blossom in the glass. Wonderful focus. The palate is medium-bodied with finely chiselled tannins, exquisite balance and a precise, lingering finish. This used to be quite a monster but time is taming the beast. Unequivocally, one of the best bottles that I have encountered... who knows how the next will show?" (97 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2025)

Bottle (2)
"Over the last couple of years, I had inclined to the view that the 1986 vintage was eclipsing the 1982 Mouton Rothschild, but two perfectly conserved bottles this year put paid to that hypothesis. One of the emblematic wines of the vintage, offering up aromas of sweet crème de cassis, cigar wrapper, espresso roast, spices and vine smoke, it's full-bodied, broad and enveloping, with a rich core of fruit; ripe, supple tannins; and a long, expansive finish. Lavish, even flamboyant, and at the same time seriously structured and quintessentially Mouton, it encapsulates the greatness of the vintage." (100 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Dec. 2022)

"Tasted from magnum and presented by Baron Philippe Sereys de Rothschild, the 1989 Château Mouton-Rothschild might not reach the ethereal heights of the 1982 or 1986, but it is certainly a lovely Claret. It has an attractive, slightly leafy bouquet armed with cedar and pencil lead. There is less fruit concentration than I expected, resolutely classic, slightly austere Bordeaux. The palate follows suit. What it lacks in substance it compensates with in balance and personality." (93 pts. Neal Martin, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2017)

"A heady, exotic wine, the 2003 Mouton Rothschild takes hold of all the senses. The ripeness and exuberance of the year comes through in spades as this dramatic, opulent wine shows off its radiant personality. The 2003 can be enjoyed now, but it could also use another few years for the tannins to soften. Still, the 2003 is pretty hard to resist today. This is an exceptional, deeply satisfying Mouton endowed with notable richness but also exceptional balance. Hints of toffee, torrefaction and dark spices are laced into the finish. In 2003 the blend is 76% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14% Merlot, 8% Cabernet Franc and 2% Petit Verdot, all brough in between a fairly narrow window of ten days between September 15 and 25." (95 pts. Bottle (1)
"The 1988 Petrus fooled me when served blind. Its opulence tricked me into thinking it was the Le Pin tasted alongside. This might be partly because this came from magnum. It has a gorgeous nose, more expressive than the bottle at the Petrus vertical, with veins of blue fruit and iodine, thyme and sous-bois. Quite bold. The palate is medium-bodied and much less austere than its bottled counterpart, with impressive density, though without that peacock's tail that the next two vintages boast. Yet a very 'useful' Petrus that will give another couple of decades of drinking pleasure." (93 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Feb. 2024)

- 117 Chateau Petrus 1989
Pomerol
nl, lscl
Bottle (1)
"The 1989 Petrus is consistent with previous bottles in the sense that it represents the apotheosis of not only the vineyard, but of Pomerol itself. It still provides that almost surreal cornucopia of aromas, red fruit melted with tar, tobacco, hints of camphor and ash, all delivered with astonishing precision. The palate is perfectly balanced, intense yet paradoxically weightless. This example is one of the finest I have encountered in terms of clarity and precision. Ethereal. If you want to taste a genuine 100-point wine then step this way. Magnificent!" (100 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, July 2020)

"The 1990 Petrus has a beautifully defined nose with potent red fruit aromas. To use a phrase employed in my previous note five years ago, this is 'sensual and warm,' once again, that eucalyptus tincture identified prior to the wine being revealed. The palate is velvety in texture and impressive in depth, with a little VA that gives this Pomerol lift. Extravagant but never brash, this is a glorious wine that you cannot help but love." (97 pts. Pauillac 2lscl, 2lwrl

"One of the wines of the vintage, the 1989 Pichon-Longueville Baron is drinking beautifully today. Bursting from the glass with aromas of ripe blackcurrants, plums, Cuban cigar, loamy soil, black truffles and burning embers, it's medium to full-bodied, rich and enveloping, with powdery tannins and a concentrated core of fruit. Fleshy and dramatic, with a sumptuous, low-acid profile and a long, expansive finish, to my palate this is the one 1989 Pauillac that, on a good day, can rival the extraordinary 1989 Lynch Bages. While I tend to think it's at its peak, every bottle I open from my cellar in Beaune seems to be better than the last." (97 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2022)

"The 1990 Pichon-Longueville Baron has always been one of my benchmark wines, one that never ceases to perform. Now at 27 years of age, it is clearly at its peak, and what a wondrous thing it is. Now showing some bricking on the rim, the bouquet is utterly sublime, with red berries, cedar, touches of graphite, crushed rose petals and incense. You just want to become enveloped by these aromas. The palate is perfectly balanced, perhaps not as structured as it once showed since the tannins have mellowed, but what you get is a Pauillac relishing its secondary phase, which is almost Burgundy-like in terms of mouthfeel. Suffused with tension, it gains weight in the mouth toward the slightly tart finish. It is a Pichon Baron that only knows how to give sophisticated drinking pleasure. I once wrote that Pichon Baron is better than many 1990 First Growth, and that is a statement I have no reason to change." (98 pts. Neal Martin, Wine Advocate, June 2017)

It has an attractive nose with scents of nettle, dandelion, gooseberry and grass clippings, the Semillon taking a back seat to the Sauvignon Blanc at the moment. The palate is very well balanced with the 20% new oak nicely integrated (the remainder is matured in two-year-old Yquem barrels). It is very refined with lovely passion fruit and kumquat notes towards the second half where finally the Semillon makes its presence felt, with touches of brioche and lemongrass developing in the glass. There is a wonderfully elegant mouth feel to the highly complex, intense, powerful, pure and robust flavors that offer an intense goût de terroir and terrific length where the deep reserves of sap really coat the palate on the mineral-driven finish. "After years of patiently waiting the nose is finally beginning to display some secondary development with its crystalline essence of black cherry pinot, spice, floral and discreet earth aromas. The palate impression is one of serious size, weight, power and punch with the still moderately structured and almost thick flavors being supported by still firm but ripe tannins that are admirably buffered by plenty of dry extract on the massively persistent finish. This is excellent and still youthful though as I noted there are now signs of maturity; indeed this could be drunk with pleasure, though to my taste a few more years of cellaring would be beneficial. In my view, this is the best de Vogüé Musigny since at least '71 and it is a monument in the making, as it will live for 50 years without breathing hard. Multiple, and largely consistent, notes, though a few bottles have seemed excessively hard with a markedly dry finish. Still, the five most recent bottles were almost perfect with a silky mouthfeel and well-integrated tannins." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, March 2019)

Reserved yet elegant nose that is a combination of sous-bois, dried flowers and spicy secondary aromatics followed by deep, rich, still tannic flavors that show uncommon depth and lots of buffering sève on the wonderfully long and attractively complex finish. For my taste, this has arrived at its peak though, based on this bottle, it appears to be holding extremely well. Bottle (5)

"The latest bottle of this still youthful effort was notably bretty and while the hallmark spice and perfumed dark berry fruit elements were still visible, it would be fair to say that the brett was not additive. There is a lovely sense of vibrancy to the pure, sweet and remarkably powerful middle weight flavors that possess more volume than usual, all wrapped in a persistent and mouth coating finish. The amount of sève is impressive as is the sheer spiciness and this is a good deal more refined than in most vintages. I should also observe that while I found the brett off-putting, most people loved it. I have only tried this one bottle recently and thus I don't know whether it was representative of the wine in general and thus my score offers the benefit of the doubt that it wasn't."

"Still deep ruby color. A wonderfully fresh, cool and relatively restrained nose reflects notes of ultra-spicy and floral dark berry fruit nose evidences only mild hints of secondary character. The seductively rich yet attractively vibrant medium weight flavors are shaped by a still moderately firm core of ripe tannins before culminating in a relatively robust and powerful finish. While with 30+ minutes of air this could be approached with pleasure, for my taste the 2002 Ech is still very much on the way up and will likely need the better part of another 4 to 7 years before it arrives at its full apogee." (93 pts. "In contrast to a very good bottle I enjoyed in 2009, the most recent bottle was a bit herbal in character with a slightly spiky finish. Based on this bottle, the '04 Ech appears to be fully mature and probably should be drunk up over the next 5ish years. The 2009 note was: Deep ruby. A penetrating nose of moderately high-toned spicy black fruit trimmed in violets and floral notes that remains completely primary leads to supple but intense flavors that are rich and refined with excellent finishing energy and more refinement than I usually find here. I particularly like the fine balance and there is a sense of opulence here due to the heady spice notes. This should drink well earlier than most vintages." (91 pts. This is a big wine by any measure with excellent mid-palate density and superb length. Really good stuff and as the 'value' play in the DRC line-up, one to strongly consider because it surpasses its normal quality level by more than a fair margin in 2005."* (94 pts. Domaine de la Romanee Conti

3.1cm, lsl, nl, ssos, #02670

Bottle (1)

"Remarkably, even at 30+ years of age there is still almost no bricking. A stunning, highly expressive and completely classic La Tache nose displays almost unbelievable complexity, with so many different elements that it is impossible to describe them all; the primary components include ripe yet still agreeably fresh dark berry scents nuanced by hints of clove, star anise, hoisin, soy and a trace of earth, but these elements only hint at the sheer depth. The flavors are big, rich, refined, classy, penetrating and superbly powerful, yet everything is in perfect balance on the magnificently long finish, blessed with more than sufficient sève to buffer the still firm though no longer aggressive tannins. This is one of those wines that is so good that it sticks in your mind for days after you try it—indeed it is haunting; in sum it's a dramatic wine of emotional impact. As an aside, in its youth, this was one of the finest young Burgundies that I have ever been privileged to try, and it only seems to get better with each passing year. For my taste, this is still slowly maturing and has not yet peaked, though I stress that this is to my taste and some may find it to now be in its sweet spot of maturation. Note that while I have had relatively consistent impressions, I have had three bottles that were a bit astringent on the finish and not in the class of what I describe above, even if they were still impressive." (99 pts. "The first hints of bricking are now in evidence. The markedly ripe though still admirably fresh and dense blackberry fruit aromas now show noticeable secondary character (though only a trace of sous-bois) plus gorgeous spice nuances. There are also plenty of spice elements present on the focused, opulent and serious big-bodied flavors that possess superb finishing complexity and terrific persistence. There is still some tannic structure to resolve, though this has excellent density of extract and impeccable balance that should permit this impressive effort to live for another 50 years. Multiple, recent, and consistent notes." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Sept. 2023)

"While the color is lightening at the rim there is no bricking. The expressive and beautifully elegant nose of spice, dried flowers, earth and sandalwood retains a lovely sense of freshness. This freshness and vibrancy can also be found on the intense, delineated and mineral-driven middle weight plus flavors that terminate in a highly complex and strikingly persistent finish. While there is still some firmness to the supporting tannins this feels as though it has just arrived at its peak though it should be capable of holding at this level for many more years to come." (95 pts. "A gorgeously spicy and expressive nose consists of mostly black fruit and floral aromas that are beginning to display some secondary character. There is good richness but also good precision to the still relatively tight, medium-full and noticeably structured flavors that possess an impressively long though slightly edgy and austere finish. While this could certainly be drunk now, I would strongly recommend decanting it for at least 30 minutes first. Better still would be to allow this another 5 to 7 years of bottle age, as the '96 Riche easily has 20-year-plus potential, though I have my doubts as to whether this is ever going to completely harmonize—indeed I would go so far as to bet against it." (92 pts. *"An expressive and notably ripe nose features complex and well-layered aromas of Vosne spice, earth and moderate secondary nuance is followed by big and relatively powerful medium-bodied robust flavors that show good muscle but no rusticity on the mouth coating and lingering finish that exhibits just a hint of dryness. While this presently displays only a bit of the classic RSV velvet, I would expect this character to become more pronounced with age. Note that while I don't believe there is much, if any, remaining upside development potential, 1990 should be an exceptionally long-lived vintage for this wine. Multiple and consistent notes." "A classic and explosive RSV nose with superbly elegant black fruit aromas that also display hints of dried flowers and stem notes along with the usual Asian spice nuances is followed by still tight, pure, concentrated and intense flavors of outstanding complexity and length. This is dense and still relatively young, though not so much that it can't be enjoyed. That said, I would continue to cellar this for another few years, though if you're going to try one now it would not be a crime provided that it was decanted for an hour or so first. In sum, this is a dramatic and extremely impressive wine that has it all." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Oct. 2013)

"All but bricked through. I've experienced more than a little bottle variation with this wine, as some are quite aromatically advanced with noticeable secondary notes and even a trace of sous-bois that leads to rich, full and sweet, moderately complex flavors carrying some slightly astringent tannins on the long finish. However, the best bottles are absolutely stunning, with soaring and fully mature, kaleidoscopically complex aromatics that display no trace of overripe or post-mature notes as they complement to perfection the wonderfully rich, seductively sweet and powerful broad-shouldered flavors that retain a fine sense of elegance while delivering excellent finishing punch and persistence. As noted, while I have certainly experienced some bottle variation, at its finest this is nothing short of brilliant, and note that if well stored the '90 Clos de la Roche is a wine that should continue to deliver stunningly good drinking for years to come." (97 pts. There is excellent richness to the focused, intense, vibrant and well-muscled full-bodied flavors that carry ample authority and punch on the complex, broad and superbly long finish that reflects a hint of mocha. There is real depth of material here and the intensity builds from the mid-palate on back to the explosive if slightly austere finish. Indeed, if I hadn't been directly involved in the purchase of a parcel of '92 Mayer in 1994 from Martine Saunier (that included this wine), I might very well have been suspicious. As to the palate impression, there was that really lovely inner-mouth perfume that seduces along with excellent balance, overall depth and fine length. The underlying structure is fully resolved and this is drinking perfectly yet should continue to do so for years to come. This is a wonderful, fully mature and velvety wine that is holding impeccably well. "I tasted this twice, once at the Orders tasting and again at the domaine and while both bottles were outstanding they varied in their degree of evolution. Somewhat curiously the bottle opened at the domaine was more forward and closer to its peak maturity. In both cases though the brilliantly spicy and wonderfully pure nose has gone largely if not completely secondary with hints of rose petal, plum and violets. There is a lovely sense of energy and underlying tension to the lush and vibrant flavors that brim with impressive reserves of dry extract before culminating in a palate-staining and hugely persistent finish. Where the wines tended to differ the most was the amount of remaining structure as one bottle was still quite firm yet the other was close to its peak. My suggested drinking window splits the difference between the two but the essential take away is that this is one of the great wines of the '98 vintage." (95 pts. "I was quite interested to see how this wine is progressing as it had been quite some time since I last had it. Again, there is no bricking though the color has clearly lightened from the very deep ruby it displayed in its youth. Like the '93, this is impressively complex with a ripe mix of primary and now mostly secondary fruit aromas that are notably floral in character before dissolving into mouth coating, full-bodied and quite powerful flavors that are mouth coating and still focused on the robust, firm, chewy and impressively lingering if noticeably warm finish. This is one of those 'lightening rod' wines in that some will like the big-bodied power and chewy structure and others will find it inelegant and borderline rustic. While this wine will live for years, I seriously doubt that the balance will hold and as such, I would suggest drinking it over the next decade as it risks drying out in time." (90 pts. The caressing and wonderfully vibrant medium-bodied flavors possess better mid-palate density before concluding in a lingering, balanced and much more complex finale. I like the focused drive of the finish; indeed this could aptly be described as a wine that delivers power without weight. I would further note that the 2017 is a relatively elegant example and, like the La Forge, a wine that could be approached on the earlier side, which is to say after 7 to 8 years."* (93 pts. "The 1992 Puligny-Montrachet 1er Cru Les Folatières is a multi-faceted wine, mercurial in the glass straight from the beginning. It offers an array of scents from white peach to orange pith, quince jelly to honeysuckle, all constantly shape-shifting in the glass. And what intensity—this just bursts forward and entertains you right from the start. The palate has a slight nutty note on the entry although this appears to dissipate. There is a honeyed texture to this Puligny-Montrachet, which you do not often find in 1992 suggesting that Lalou picked a little later, but she managed to retain extraordinary tension and race on the almost Meursault-like finish. Brilliant." (96 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Nov. 2017)

"A beautifully layered nose features plenty of classic Chablis character on the notes of ripe citrus, sea breeze, dried flowers, quinine and mineral reduction. The punchy medium-bodied flavors are built on a base of minerality that adds lift to the tension-filled finish that coats the mouth with acid buffering dry extract. This is still relatively tight but not so much that it couldn't be enjoyed if decanted for 30 minutes first - that said I would be inclined to allow this to sit in a cool cellar for another 3 to 5 years as it's clear that it's still on the way up." (92 pts. "A largely mature, complex and classic Chablis nose is comprised by notes of green fruit, citrus rind, sea shore and iodine scents that are trimmed in a waxy character. There is excellent concentration to the still nicely intense flavors that are at once fleshy yet delineated and are followed by a notably saline-infused finish that delivers excellent length and solid if not sensational complexity. For my taste, this has arrived at its peak though it should hold there for at least another decade. Tasted thrice since release with consistent results." (92 pts. By contrast, two bottles tasted in 2019 were much more interesting: deep golden color. The fully mature nose has gone almost completely tertiary with truffle and iodine nuances that add breadth to the sous-bois dominated nose. There is fine richness to the delicious, vibrant and wonderfully complex medium weight flavors, all wrapped in a citrus-infused and intensely mineral-driven finish that offers excellent depth and persistence."* (93 pts. Bottle (6)

"So, with no further ado, the 2006 Henri Bonneau Chateaufneuf-du-Pape Reserve des Celestins (this bottle was the only wine not tasted at the domaine and was purchased and reviewed by me last year) is a blend of 85% Grenache, and 15% assorted varieties, that's aged all in older barrel and foudre. Exhibiting a dense ruby/purple color, it is incredibly old-school on the nose with loads of roasted Provencal herbs, meat juice, plum sauce, game, and licorice aromas all showing up. Medium to full-bodied on the palate, with a full, fleshy mid-palate, superb ripeness, and a solid finish, this textbook Chateaufneuf du Pape opens up beautifully in the glass and is a joy to drink. With no hard edges and an approachable feel, it is superb now, but should also age gracefully for 12-15 years." (94 pts. Jeb Dunnuck, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2013)

Bottle (6)

"Still in barrel at the time of this tasting, the 2013 Hermitage will certainly be one of the wines of the vintage. Offering classic, granite-induced notes of smoked dark fruits, graphite, searing minerality and bouquet garni, this sensational Hermitage has medium to full-bodied richness, beautiful mid-palate density and building tannin, all with the freshness and purity of the vintage. Reminiscent of a more backwards, tight, focused and granite-driven year (I asked Jean-Louis if there was a similar vintage he could recall, he commented that he couldn't think of one), it has solid ripeness in its aromas and flavors, good sweetness in its tannin, and a great finish. I suspect it will need 7-8 years of cellaring and keep for 20-25 years or more." (94-97 pts. Jeb Dunnuck, Wine Advocate, Dec. 2015)

"Although this wine will probably live long, it will never be better than it was in 1990. Then there was a life and a glass development that was an unmatched pleasure. First a closed but top-class nose, which opened up after ten minutes into a Montrachet-like depth of the loveliest of wine aromas. It has a classically well-balanced structure, with a long, nutty aftertaste that is close to perfection. Later bottles have shown an even greater richness of taste, but some of the elegance has been lost. The most recent magnum in Vilnius had a bouquet of Clos du Mesnil." (98 pts. "Then it was time again! How do they do it? Along with Rémi Krug I premiere tasted the 88' beside the outrageously good 89', and could hardly believe my taste buds that signaled that the 88' was even better. They themselves compare the wine with the 81', 55' and 61'. Personally, I like it at the 66' and the ultra-elegant 79'. The finesse is unbeatable and the acidity is very noticeable. This is a wine that will be enjoyed by our grandchildren. Most certainly advise against the direct consumption of this young wine. I am of a different view as I believe that part of the happy-tear-producing subtlety disappears as the wine matures. I hope you accept it as an explanation for the unusually tight scoring gap between today and the potential top. In 2022 at its peak. 1 point lower in 2025." (97 pts. "Krug's 1988 Brut has long numbered among my very favorite vintages for this house, with the best bottles flirting with a three-digit score. Offering up complex aromas of apricot, citrus oil, candied peel, toasted brioche and honeycomb, it's full-bodied, concentrated and incisive, with a deep, layered and tightly wound core, racy acids and a searingly chalky finish. If on release the 1988 got less attention than the more immediate, head-turning 1990 and 1989 vintages, with time it is proving itself the most serious of those three consecutive releases." (98 pts. - 225 Krug Vintage Champagne 1990
"I don't know for how many years I've been waiting to taste this wine, as all has mentioned. Only now, at the age of fourteen, does Krug feel that the wine is ready to meet its audience. You don't have to be Einstein to figure out that the vintage and the character of the house would marry perfectly. The wine is already monumental with a style that lies between the acidic classic 1988 and the generously honeyed 1989. The acidity is certainly high, but the fruit is so rich that the acidity is beautifully embedded. There are warm roasted—almost burnt and smoked—aromas along with notes of orchids, vanilla and dried fruit that recall older Krugs from warm years. It will probably take another seven to eight years for the wine to reach its peak, though by December 2007 greatness and generosity had already emerged." (96 pts. "From another hot vintage, the 2009 Redigaffi reveals a very concentrated and thick personality (which also reflects the stylistic preference of these years). The bouquet is redolent of thick blackberry preserves, charred spice and syrupy blackcurrant. There is a pretty mineral note as well with a point of graphite or pencil shaving that gives the bouquet some much needed vertical lift and linearity. Again, the wine flaunts its ripeness, but like other vintages we see in this retrospective, there are no overtly oxidized aromas. This pretty 2009 Merlot ends with elegant, almost powdery tannins." (94 pts. Monica Lerner, Wine Advocate, July 2022)

"Although I would not regard the 2003 Pingus as a perfect wine, it remains a fantastic Ribera del Duero. It has a scintillating bouquet of dark cherries, graphite, black truffle, Indian ink and liquorice that is incredibly precise. The palate is rounded and opulent on the entry: an unashamedly luscious wine with a silky-smooth texture. It is generous and perhaps a little more forward than I was expecting, but it is a Pingus that is impossible to dislike." (94 pts. Neal Martin, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2012)

- 246 Pingus 2009
 Bottle (2)
"The 2009 Pingus was released last year, but it should still be pretty available. It was harvested on October 5 and 6 under perfect conditions. It is a powerful and concentrated vintage for Pingus. I'm amazed at how much the wine integrated with one extra year in the bottle – the aromas are more precise, starting to reveal the true personality of the wine. The nose is very perfumed and balsamic, with notes of violets and ripe, juicy fruit, quite high-pitched. The oak is well-integrated into the wine. The palate is very powerful, full-bodied, concentrated but balanced, and wearing its 14.5% alcohol lightly, in a very difficult combination of power and elegance, with abundant but silky tannins." (97 pts. - 247 Pingus 2011
 Bottle (2)
"As with all the 2011s, the 2011 Pingus is riper, with never-seen-before alcohol levels (15.5%), but the wine feels extremely balanced. As usual, the highly-selected grapes were fermented in 2,000-liter oak vats with indigenous yeasts and aged for 22 months in second- and third-fill barrels. It is ripe and exuberant, with notes of violets, spices (curry!), smoky peat and umami-like meat-broth aromas. The palate is full-bodied, glyceric with sophisticated tannins, but plenty of them, so they need to calm down a little. I believe there will be a lot of people who will really love this 2011; it's showy and exuberant." (95 pts. Luis Gutiérrez, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2014)

"Vivid purple. Ripe cherry, cassis, potpourri and cracked pepper on the intensely perfumed nose, with subtle licorice and woodsmoke qualities adding complexity. Deep, sweet and expansive, offering explosive dark berry compote, floral pastille and anise flavors. A spicy quality gains strength on the finish, which leaves smoke and mineral notes behind. This bottling has been going from strength to strength in recent years and offers superb value relative to its ritzy Pingus sibling." (94 pts. Josh Reynolds, Vinous, Sept. 2012)

250 Rioja 1947

Vina Bosconia Gran Reserva, Lopez de Heredia

4.7cm, bsl, tal, crc, ssos

Bottle (1)

"The 1947 Viña Bosconia Gran Reserva blew me away. It could have been my favorite of the Riojas, up there with the best Bordeaux (to me, Petrus and surprisingly enough Margaux!). It is amazingly dark, juicy and glowy, with a very young and dark cherry color and surprising acidity. Viña Bosconia is a relatively small vineyard of only 15 hectares, so production was not as much as that of the Viña Tondonia. It's juicy and lush, with notes of forest floor, truffle, smoked cured dry meat and orange peel denoting freshness. The tannins are fully resolved, and it has a velvety texture; it's elegant and long. Super tasty, really pleasant and gourmand." (100 pts. Luis Gutiérrez, Wine Advocate, Sept. 2022)

"100% Cabernet Sauvignon, barrel aged three full years before being bottled. Just under 4,000 cases were produced of this exceptional Cabernet Sauvignon, which shows an opaque purple color and a dense, powerful mouthfeel, with notes of toast, blackberry and blackcurrant, cedar wood, licorice and smoky barbecue. It is deep, full-bodied, multi-layered and should drink well for another 20+ years." (93 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Dec. 2016)

"The darkest of these wines so far: deep red-ruby. Some sexy high tones lift the complex aromas of black fruits, dried cherry, potpourri spices and earth. Initially a bit clenched but quickly revealed a silky texture, with perfectly integrated acidity enlivening the mid-palate flavors of red and darker berries, tobacco and spices accented by a minty nuance. This supple yet somehow youthful wine is perhaps most impressive on its inexorable, slowly building aftertaste, where the tannins are in perfect harmony with the fruit. A splendid Napa Valley Cabernet from a long growing season featuring a late harvest." (96 pts. Stephen Tanzer, Vinous, March 2019)

"I loved the 2011 Screaming Eagle when it was in barrel and then as a young, recently-bottled wine. It is every bit compelling today. Bright red/purplish fruit, rose petal, sage, mint and white pepper lend notable energy throughout. At age ten, the 2011 positively bristles with energy and freshness. Winemaker Nick Gislason waited until the end of October to harvest. Among other things, the 2011 is unique for its high percentage of Cabernet Franc (12%). Today, the 2011 is spectacularly beautiful. Readers who own it should be thrilled." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Oct. 2021)

"Deep garnet colored, the 2011 Second Flight (a blend of 54% Merlot, 42% Cabernet Sauvignon and 4% Cabernet Franc) offers up a gorgeous perfume of wilted roses and violets over a core of blackberry tart, raspberry preserves and kirsch with subtle baking spices and garrigue notions. Medium to full-bodied with a solid frame of grainy tannins and just enough freshness, it has wonderfully perfumed layers and an exotic spice-laced finish. It has a surprising amount of weight and concentration for this cool, rainy vintage. Winemaker Nick Gislason informed me that the last pick was on November 1 this year—which is extremely late! But this later harvest clearly paid off when you consider how ripe the tannins are on this beauty," (94 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, April 2018)

A touch of spring flowers, intermixed with crème de cassis, licorice, lead-pencil shavings and cedar, are all present in this wine of great intensity and full-bodied power, but with an elegance and finesse that, again, similarly suggests a Château Margaux made in St. Helena. "A blend of 95% Cabernet Sauvignon and 5% Cabernet Franc, the 1997 is just short of perfection from this great vintage in Napa Valley. A spectacular wine, it was the first made by Rosemary Cakebread. Production was quite high, as the new plantings started to fully produce, with 4,800+ cases declared. This wine fills the olfactory senses with gorgeous ripeness, blueberries, black raspberries, blackberries and cassis, while spring flowers and a touch of oak still linger in the aromatics. When the wine hits the palate, the extraordinary intensity, purity and multi-dimensional complexity all seem to converge with a cascade of fruit, glycerin and richness. Like most Spottswode Cabernet Sauvignons, it is only 13.8% alcohol. This is a magnificent wine, a young adolescent in the scheme of its potentially fascinating evolution, and should have a good 25–30+ years left in it—although it's strutting its stuff at present. Certainly in the first two decades of Spottswode wines, this is clearly one of the most compelling efforts." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2016)

"Manfred's 2013 Grenache Female checks in as a blend of 78% Grenache, 19% Syrah and 3% Mourvèdre that is mostly from his Eleven Confessions estate vineyard in Sta. Rita Hills, yet has smaller portions from his Cumulus, The Third Twin and Bien Nacido vineyards. Seeing just over 24 months in a mix of demi-muids, 300-liter Hog Heads and barrique, it has a sensational bouquet of spring flowers, black raspberries, black cherries, violets, licorice and camphor. Reminding me of a great vintage of Raymond Usseglio's Cuvée Imperiale, this full-bodied, elegant Grenache is impeccably balanced, has a full and layered mid-palate (which is missing from just about every other Grenache made in California), and sweet tannin on the finish. It's almost impervious to air and didn't budge an inch over the three days I followed this bottle. It will cruise for over two decades." (98 pts. Jeb Dunnuck, Wine Advocate, May 2016)

Stockholm Syndrome
Bottle (3)
"The current release of the estate vineyard (a.k.a. the extended barrel-aged cuvee), the 2010 Grenache Stockholm Syndrome is an incredible effort that I couldn't find a fault with. A blend of 75% Grenache, 22% Syrah, 2% Roussanne and 1% Viognier, all from the Eleven Confession Vineyard, it spent just under 30 months in 22% new and 78% used French oak prior to bottling. Locked and loaded, it knocks it out of the park with its cassis, licorice, smoked duck, spice-box and exotic herb-styled bouquet. The palate follows suit and while it has the expected depth and richness of the estate, it's seamless, elegant and lively, with perfect balance, ultra-fine tannin and a finish that just won't quit. It doesn't get any better and count yourself lucky if you can latch onto a couple of these." (100 pts. Jeb Dunnuck, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2014)

It offers stunning notes of blackcurrants, cassis, smoked meats, ground pepper and wild herbs to go with a full-bodied, unctuous, layered, yet always graceful and elegant feel on the palate. Nicely structured, with perfect overall balance, it still has the open-knit character of the vintage, yet has plenty of underlying structure, which at the moment is slightly hidden by the wine's lavish fruit."* (98 pts. ## A Second Descent into One of Philadelphia's Most Meticulously Built Cellars.

Following the successful debut of The Cellar Beneath, this second tranche returns to the same carefully engineered, temperature-controlled vault. The focus here shifts even more clearly to pristine OWC Bordeaux, with original wooden cases from leading châteaux selected for both provenance and long-term aging potential. As with the initial release, every detail reflects a disciplined approach to collecting, thoughtful storage, and a clear eye toward condition and consistency.

"The 2011 Calon-Ségur has a light, tertiary bouquet, quite tight at first, hints of dried blood coming through with time, a little toasty in style. This gains complexity and is quite appealing. The palate is medium-bodied with sappy black fruit, fine-grain tannins and a keen line of acidity, with one of the more refined finishes in its peer group. This is well-crafted and certainly à point. The palate reveals a sensuous medium-bodied style offset beautifully by very firm, very silky tannins and packed with energetic, multifaceted fruit as well as great tension, finishing long with an arresting spice and floral perfume. Matured in 90% new oak for 18 months, it has a very well defined bouquet with intense black fruit intermingling with dried herbs and liquorice; strangely, the 2011 is not unlike the 2005 in character and also being 'not ready'. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins, fine acidity, sweet and generous yet with countervailing acidity and a gorgeous, pure and nuanced finish. This is one of the real surprises of this vertical and must rank as one of the best Left Bank wines of the vintage." (94 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2021)

"The 2015 Figeac is a blend of 43% Cabernet Sauvignon, 29% Merlot and 28% Cabernet Franc and showed impressively from barrel, the best vintage until the nascent 2016 trotted along. That subsequent vintage should not steal the thunder of the 2015. It has a captivating, very pure and refined bouquet with blackberry, bilberry, graphite and subtle violet scents (the cassis note appears to have dissipated during the élevage). The palate is medium-bodied with very fine, slightly chalky tannin matched with nigh-on perfect acidity. This feels so harmonious and so terroir-driven, exactly as I hoped for when tasting this en primeur. It is going to be a legendary wine for this historic estate and I sincerely hope you have a few bottles nestling in your cellar. Give it 8 to 10 years in bottle." (98 pts. Vibrant red berry fruit intermixes with blueberry and cassis on the nose. The palate is medium-bodied and retains a bit of puppy fat. Rich for the vintage, yet very well balanced, it delivers lovely black truffle and tobacco notes on the finish. This is very fine, but it needs further age in bottle." (95 pts.  Bottle (12)
*"A blend of 50% Merlot, 8% Cabernet Franc and 42% Cabernet Sauvignon, the medium to deep garnet-purple colored 2015 Haut-Brion is reticent to begin, languidly revealing crushed black cherries, ripe black plums and wild blueberries with sparks of cinnamon stick, cloves, nutmeg, espresso, unsmoked cigars, tapenade, crushed rocks and lavender. The full-bodied palate possesses wonderfully complementary contrasts of bold black and blue fruit richness and delicately nuanced cherry fruit, baking spices and floral accents, strutting ripe, finely pixelated tannins and seamless acidity that is placed firmly in the background, finishing very long and with plenty of attitude. This impeccably poised, exquisitely perfumed 2015 Haut-Brion possesses the most alluring yet seemingly effortless beauty. While it bears only a passing resemblance in its opulent personality to the now legendary 1989, like that vintage the 2015 cannot fail to hedonically satiate and intellectually edify all lovers of great Bordeaux who drink it. What's more, it also has the blue-blooded tenaciousness to remain this jaw-droppingly impressive, throughout its many guises over time, and for a very, very long time." (100 pts. Deep and rich, yet also light on its feet, the 2014 Lafleur-Pétrus is one of the most distinctive wines of the vintage for the way in which it brings together intensity and elegance, all with an unmistakably understated personality. Bright aromatic top notes add to the wine's open-knit bouquet and overall feeling of sensuality. A considerable amount of Cabernet Franc character comes through, even if Franc is only 7% of the blend. All the elements are in the right place. Full-bodied, broad and enveloping, it's a velvety, layered and impressively dynamic wine that's deep and concentrated, exhibiting terrific balance and a long, resonant finish. While it is still five or six years away from showing all its cards, I have drunk this benchmark for contemporary Montrose with immense pleasure three times this year. In style, it's hard to find an obvious comparison (and I have drunk Montrose back to 1895), but I would be inclined to invoke a fresher, more complete and more powerful version of the estate's very successful 2003." It underwent a particularly long maceration period between 26 and 28 days. It offers more fruit intensity than the 2011 Montrose with blackberry, raspberry and bilberry scents, quite backward and primal yet well defined. The aromatics almost mock you because returning after ten minutes, there are glimpses of underlying dried herb and mineral notes. The palate is medium-bodied, intense and very focused, clearly with more depth and sinew than the 2011, yet displaying impressive precision and energy on the finish, which bodes well for the long-term." This extraordinary vineyard (a few miles to the west of Haut Brion and La Mission Haut Brion) has hit all the highlights of this vintage. Interestingly, the quality of the Pomerols and Graves wines in 2012 is closer to what one would consider a great vintage than the general image of 2012. This is truly great wine and not far off their magnificent 2005 and 2010. Full-bodied, with rich cassis, subtle burning embers and spice followed by velvety, well-integrated tannins, the wine is lush, expansive, savory and profound. Bottle (12)

"The 2015 Pichon Comtesse is a towering wine, as it has always been. Rich, sumptuous and totally hedonistic, the 2015 melds together intense fruit with structure. Far from an easygoing wine, the 2015 is a going to need a number of years and will then drink well for several decades. Grilled herbs, smoke, new leather and licorice are some of the many notes that are layered into the dark-fleshed fruit for complexity. As good as the 2015 is today, it also has room to grow." (98+ pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2017)

Estimate: $1,200-$1,500

Starting Bid: $950

389   Chateau Pichon Lalande 2016

Pauillac

owc

Bottle (12)

"The 2016 Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande is every bit as regal as it has always been. Towering and spectacularly rich in the glass, the 2016 captures every ounce of potential is showed from barrel. The 2016 is a vivid, dramatically sweeping wine that will leave readers week at the knees. Beams of tannin give the 2016 soaring intensity that is matched by a host of aromas and flavors that open up in the glass. Blackberry jam, graphite, spice, menthol, licorice, pencil shavings and spice are all finely sketched in a bold, savory Pauillac that hits all the right notes. The 2016 Pichon Comtesse has been riveting on each of the four occasions I have tasted it from barrel thus far, making it easily one of the wines of the vintage. Nicolas Glumineu and his team turned out an epic Pichon Comtesse in 2016. Don't miss it!" (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2018)

Estimate: $1,800-$2,400

Starting Bid: $1,400

390   Vieux Chateau Certan 2011

Pomerol

owc

Bottle (12)

"One of the stars of the vintage, the 2011 Vieux Château Certan was brilliant from barrel (I vividly remember tasting it as a student), and it is beginning to show all of that potential in bottle. Wafting from the glass with inviting aromas of mulberries, cherries, vine smoke, bitter chocolate, violets and spices, framed by a deft application of classy new oak, it's medium to full-bodied, velvety and layered, with terrific concentration, powdery tannins and a long, sapid finish. Even better, this terrific wine remains notably undervalued in the market today." (96 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2022)

Estimate: $950-$1,300

Starting Bid: $750

Bottle (5)

"An elegant, pure and more floral nose offers up its combination of green apple, prominent citrus and crushed fennel nuances. There is borderline painful intensity to the appealingly textured medium weight flavors that exude a subtle minerality, finishing with a chiseled, balanced and long finale that is quite dry but not really austere. This is an excellent Puligny villages that is also worth strong consideration." (90–93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2023)

Full bodied, with firm and chewy tannins, but a very creamy texture, and lots of milk chocolate, berry and mineral character. It goes on for minutes. Clear and powerful. Savory and salty. One of the best Massetos ever." (99 pts. James Suckling, Aug. 2011)

- 410 Abreu Red 2018
Thorevilos
Bottle (3)
*"Yes, the score is a bit of a cop-out, but as I had a slight preference for the 100-point Madrona Ranch, I just couldn't justify the same score for the 2018 Thorevilos Proprietary Red, however wonderful this wine might be. It splits the difference between 2016 and 2017 in terms of its fruit expression, with dark cherries and cassis joined by gentle floral-herbal nuances on the nose. It's full-bodied in the mouth, concentrated and pure, with a lengthy, refreshing finish that adds brighter raspberry notes and hints of fine leather. Just gorgeous." (99+ pts. ## 420 Chateau Lynch Bages 2016

owc

Bottle (6)

"Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2016 Lynch Bages comes charging out of the gate with pronounced cassis, chocolate-covered cherries, mulberries and menthol notions, backed up by scents of garrigue, tilled soil and a waft of tapenade. Medium to full-bodied, rich and fantastically concentrated, the generous fruit is superbly framed by firm, ripe, grainy tannins with tons of pepper, cinnamon and cloves layers coming through on the finish. Truly, a legendary Lynch Bages!" (97+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Nov. 2018)

Estimate: $650-$850

Starting Bid: $500

421 St. Joseph 2019

P. Gonon

2lsl

Bottle (10)

"I am totally hooked by the flamboyance of the 2019 Saint-Joseph. Vinified with around 90% whole-clusters and checking in at 14.2% alcohol, the 2019 bursts with pronounced intensity of black cherry, blackberry, raspberry, crushed violets, licorice and earthy gradations. Discrete pencil shaving nuances add a ferrous dimension. Showing slightly grippier tannins compared to the more polished 2020, I suspect the 2019 will need a few more years to come around. Hitting the palate with a juicy core of ripe black fruits all balanced by refreshing acidity, this is a sexy Saint-Joseph that will stand the test of time." (95 pts. Nicolas Greinacher, Vinous, Oct. 2023)

Estimate: $950-$1,300

Starting Bid: $750

422 St. Joseph 2020

P. Gonon

Bottle (10)

"Deep magenta. Displays expansive aromas of black raspberry, cherry liqueur, candied flowers and olive, along with exotic spice and smoky mineral nuances. Weighty as well as energetic in style, offering sappy, mineral-drenched black and blue fruit preserves, floral pastille flavors and hints of star anise and allspice. Finishes juicy, lively and wonderfully long, with resonating spice and floral notes and youthfully gripping tannins." (96 pts. Josh Raynolds, Vinous, Dec. 2022)

- 434 Opus One 2015
 2lscl
 Bottle (4)
"The 2015 Opus One is every bit as glorious as it was on release. I am so taken with the wine's freshness and verve. Flowers, red-toned fruit, spice and blood orange are very finely delineated. In its youth, the 2015 was decidedly exotic and flamboyant. Time has done a lot to settle down some of that initial exuberance. Today, the 2015 doesn't have the mid-palate body of some years, but that actually plays in its favor. The profile is also distinctly on the red-fruited end of the spectrum. Time is the ultimate judge when it comes to wine, and the 2015 exceeds all expectations." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Nov. 2025)

*"Medium to deep garnet-purple colored, the 2018 Screaming Eagle soars out of the glass with vibrant notions of ripe blackberries, black cherries and fresh red and black currants plus wafts of licorice, candied violets, cedar chest and clove oil with a beguiling touch of sea spray. Medium-bodied with jaw-dropping elegance, the palate is finely textured and yet built like a brick house with a super taut backbone and exquisitely knit acidity. The intense black and red fruit flavors are accented by layers of mineral and floral notions, finishing with incredible length and depth. Undeniably stunning." (100 pts.
