THE ADVENTURER'S COLLECTION

I had the privilege of being friends with the owner of this cellar for decades, and I'll dearly miss his warm company. He was unendingly polite and always somehow found a creative path to describe an over-the-hill bottle in a positive light. In all the years I knew him, I never heard him utter an insult or slight. That's simply who he was. He had a highly successful career and embraced an enviable range of outside interests including humanitarian causes. His adventures led him to sail the seas, ski the slopes, drive race cars and fly planes. Clearly he also cherished great wines. Above all else he was deeply passionate about his wife and family.

As for the wines, they were all meticulously sourced upon release and carefully stored in a customized and temperature-controlled home cellar. He was deeply focused on the best of the best from France and California. There's a trove of first growth Bordeaux, much of which was acquired as futures from HDH, along with a staggering bounty of DRC, featuring fourteen vintages of Romanée-Conti and eight vintages of Montrachet, along with deep pockets of Harlan and Screaming Eagle.

I raise a glass to my friend and his family and hope you will bid with vigor and trust!

-Michael Davis

WINES FROM THE CELLAR OF FORMER U.S. AMBASSADOR RON WEISER

Proceeds to Support Breast Cancer Research

We are honored to include this offering from the vast cellar of former U.S. Ambassador Ron Weiser. Ambassador Weiser is well known for his generosity – he is one of the two largest donors of all time to the University of Michigan and Michigan Medicine – and the proceeds for this selection will benefit breast cancer research.

Aside from his love and support for the University of Michigan, one of Ambassador Weiser's great passions in life is wine. His appreciation for wine was instilled by his grandfather, and after finding early success Ron began to focus on collecting. Ambassador Weiser was thoughtful and deliberate in his purchases, enjoying close relationships with Serena Sutcliffe and Michael Broadbent and consulting with them on provenance and conditions before buying from London wine auctions in the 1990s. Ron is a member of Bacchus and has passed on his love of wine to his son.

Champagne and the Rhône Valley are the featured regions in this selection, with many large formats from both to enjoy. The offering of Bordeaux here is impressively comprehensive, with library selections of Lafite, Latour, Mouton and Montrose and exciting verticals of Haut-Brion Blanc and Yquem. Conditions are superb throughout, and the proceeds go to an excellent cause – bid with confidence and enthusiasm!

BURGUNDY'S BEST

Denis Bachelet, DRC, Dujac, Engel, Lafon, Leflaive, Roulot, Roumier and Vogüé: This remarkable offering of Burgundy features the very best producers of the past thirty years. Highlights include ten bottles of incredibly rare 1999 Clos Vougeot from René Engel; six magnums of 2018 Bâtard-Montrachet; Domaine Leflaive in an owc, strapped prior to inspection by HDH; three bottles each of 2018 DRC Romanée-Conti and Montrachet; Denis Bachelet's Charmes Chambertin 1999; and a stunning vertical of magnums of Domaine Roulot's Meursault Clos des Bouchères.

Owing to this collector's many friendships in Burgundy, the majority of the following selection is as close to direct from the source as can be in the US and has never moved since purchase. Wines that were not obtained directly from producers came from reputable retailers and auction houses stateside. This collection is stored both professionally in the tri-state area and in a purpose-built state-of-the-art private cellar maintained at very cold temperatures.

THE BEST OF BURGUNDY

This group hails from a longtime friend who has been collecting wine for three decades. The focus of his collection is on top producers from around the world, but the selection offered here is exclusively Burgundy—most prominently Dujac and Vogüé. Wines were purchased from prominent retailers and trusted auction houses, and the collection is housed in a climate-controlled home cellar and professional storage. Thanks to this gentleman's generous nature, the many bottles that have been shared with HDH over the years have been indicative of excellent sourcing and perfect storage. Bid with confidence.

AN HISTORIC SELECTION OF D'YQUEM FROM ONE OF AMERICA'S FOREMOST CELLARS

Hart Davis Hart is honored to present the following collection of Château d'Yquem, which features Sauternes' most iconic estate in a depth rarely seen. Beginning with sixteen bottlings from the 19th century, this offering spans nearly 200 years and touches on the most celebrated vintages in the Château's history, including 1816, 1858, 1865, 1896, 1900, 1909, 1921, 1928, 1929, 1937, 1945, 1948, 1949, 1957, 1959, 1962, 1967, 1975, 1983, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1995 and 2001. An array of modern vintages of Yquem's dry white, "Y' Ygrec", is also available. No other estate affords collectors as many opportunities to commemorate meaningful years, whether historic or personal, with wines that evolve, improve, and withstand the tests of time.

This selection represents one of the most important wine cellars in the US, whose stewards fastidiously record the provenance details of every bottle. Neck tags and detailed notes reflect the date and source, and nearly all the original receipts have been retained. Provenance notes listed in the catalog for this selection correspond to those original receipts. Importantly, many of the most important Château d'Yquem sales in the past 30 years are cited, including The Magnificent Private Cellar of Dr. Nils Stormby and The Doris Duke Collection. The wines on offer were all secured in temperature- and humidity-controlled conditions since purchase.

WINES FROM THE CELLAR OF JEFF JOHNSON

Hart Davis Hart is proud to bring to auction the collection of businessman and connoisseur Jeff Johnson. A cornerstone of the September Auction of Finest and Rarest Wines, this selection represents decades of learning about and collecting exceptional wines from the best producers in France, Italy, Australia and the US. Jeff is a longtime client of HDH and friend of President Ben Nelson, who notes his meticulous focus on provenance and storage and, of course, his impeccable palate.

Preparing his collection for auction has been an exercise in nostalgia for Jeff Johnson, harkening back to a bygone era of discovering and tasting wines. Growing up in the Pacific Northwest, Jeff's relationship with wine started with travels through the Columbia and Walla Walla Valleys. These journeys served as an education, later leading him to Oregon, then on to California's classic, "old school" producers. A move East was the conduit to traditional European wines, thanks to the incredible restaurants and generous wine professionals of 1990s New York City. Burgundy Wine Company helped to further narrow his focus; the educational symposia where they poured wines, talked terroir and studied maps also introduced him to tasting groups whose members remain his closest friends to this day. Together they traveled to Burgundy and were able to meet and taste with the vigneron whose styles were molding their palates: Roumier, Mugnier, Fourrier, Rousseau, Leroy, d'Auvenay, Méo-Camuzet and more. Jeff recalls that tasting and evaluating an estate's Bourgogne and village wines at a young age was instrumental in understanding what producers could achieve with their premier and grand cru vineyards. Jeff felt the quality of one's Bourgogne was the true measure of a winemaker's capabilities.

The fruits of Jeff's studies and journeys are in this incredible auction offering, the centerpiece of which is a breathtaking array of red Burgundy. From Armand Rousseau, there are twelve bottles each of 2002 Chambertin and Chambertin Clos de Bèze, as well as another six of 1999 Clos de Bèze. The impressive depth of Domaine Leroy reds is highlighted by four vintages of Musigny, including four bottles of the 2001 vintage. "The Domaine" is well-represented, most notably by thirteen vintages of La Tâche and multiple six-packs of 2002 Richebourg. Griotte-Chambertin, the rarest among Domaine Fourrier's bottlings, appears in eleven vintages spanning 2002-2017. Beyond these featured producers, there are significant offerings from Dujac, Liger-Belair, Comte Georges de Vogüé, Georges Mugneret-Gibourg, Anne Gros, Jean Grivot, JF Mugnier, and Méo-Camuzet.

The producers of white Burgundy most prominent are Leflaive, DRC (both Montrachet and Corton-Charlemagne), Ramonet, Coche-Dury, Pierre-Yves Colin-Morey and Sauzet, though d'Auvenay in any quantity must not be overlooked. A concise offering from the Rhône Valley focuses on Château Rayas and Henri Bonneau as well as two bottles of rare 2000 Ermitage, Cuvée Cathelin, Jean-Louis Chave. Important winemakers from Italy, Australia, California and Washington complete the selection. Take note of the extensive collection of Sine Qua Non, Quilceda Creek (all in magnum format) and Cayuse Bionic Frog.

A hallmark of Jeff's collection is his fastidiousness about provenance and storage. Upwards of 95% of the cellar was purchased on release, and he retained the invoices for every single bottle. Many of the receipts he provided are handwritten, a detail that will be familiar to other collectors from the pre-internet age. The wines have always been professionally stored with Hart Davis Hart for the past sixteen years and prior to that Seattle Wine Storage. With the collection reaching a size and value far exceeding Jeff's expectations, he has planned this downsizing to curate a more focused cellar that he can enjoy through the years. From selection to sourcing to storage, Jeff Johnson has painstakingly and thoughtfully created an ideal cellar, which Hart Davis Hart is honored to present this September. Bid with utmost confidence.
