Macallan Archival Series Folio 7 Single Malt

The seventh of 24 planned releases, The Archival Series is focused on the advertising campaigns from the 1970s through the turn of the century, with each Folio diving into a particular campaign. This campaign from 1984 centers on the "Boffins Baffled," wherein a group of scientists attempt to explain away the magic that makes Macallan so special, but end up stumped, requiring the liberation of a cask of whisky to be returned to their labs for "further research." Released in 2023 and exclusively available at Macallan travel boutiques in select airports, Folio 7 is housed in a figural book tin which houses the bottle and a book detailing the campaign.

Macallan El Celler De Can Roca Distil Your World
Mexico & New York Edition Single Malt Scotch

An effort to distill the spirit of a city into liquid, the Distil Your World series is a collaborative effort between Macallan's renowned Whisky Makers and the Roca brothers of El Celler de Can Roca.

For New York, released in 2022, Macallan Whisky Maker Polly Logan joined the Roca brothers and sought to capture the essence of the greatest melting pot of America. Naturally, this had to include the notes of (The Big) Apple, but also candied nuts and mineral elements to pay homage to the diamond-paved streets. Hints of vanilla come through as the 1000-bottle release was drawn from American oak casks as well as select European oak casks, a nod to the city's first immigrants. Chocolate, candy and maple notes mingle with the apple, evoking the diversity and bombast found throughout the streets of the city.

For the 2023 release, the Roca brothers joined Macallan Whisky Maker Diane Stuart to explore the Day of the Dead festival. Marigold flowers are a key element in Day of the Dead festivities and served as inspiration for the color of the whisky. Pan de Muertos, a sweet bread made with orange blossom, is the central note in the whisky, joined by spice and chocolate to evoke mole and further elevated with vanilla and charred pineapple notes, capturing the vibrant, colorful mood of the festivities. Joyous and contemplative, this blend of single malts is meant to inspire us to celebrate what we have while reflecting on what has gone before us.

These limited releases, too, are fleeting. Experienced, captured and bottled, these are one-time releases honoring each city which are never to be reproduced again.

Macallan Masters of Photography Mario Testino
Single Malt Scotch NV [Purple Edition]

The fifth edition of the Masters of Photography series, this 2014 release features the photography of Mario Testino, legendary fashion and portrait photographer. The photos included come from a shoot wherein a cast of characters are meant to represent The Six Pillars, a central tenet in Macallan's philosophy. There are four variations to the release, with 250 examples of each color highlighted in the primary photo displayed; green, yellow, red or (this example) purple. The whisky itself is the same in each release, a blend of six selected casks in the 700ml bottle, each chosen to represent one of the Six Pillars. As with his photography, there is more to this package than meets the eye at first glance. A hidden compartment slides out to reveal six miniatures, each holding the unadulterated single cask whisky from the blend.

Macallan Tales of the Macallan Volume I & II Single Malt Scotch

This series of ultra-aged whiskies pays homage to those that laid the foundation for Macallan. The first edition, distilled in 1950 and bottled in 2021, focuses on Captain John Grant, whose family established themselves on the Easter Elchies land in 1543, building the house that adorns the labels of Macallan and represents the spiritual home of the brand to this day. Grant himself lived on the lands from 1659 to 1715, reconstructing and expanding the Easter Elchies House, early ambitions on the land that would become home to arguably the world's finest whisky.

The second edition, released as part of the bicentenary celebrations in 2024, focuses on Alexander Reid, the founder of the Macallan distillery in 1824. From teacher, to farmer and ultimately to distillery founder, Reid's innovative drive continues to inform and challenge today's distillers at Macallan. This chapter in Macallan's history was overseen by Lead Whisky Maker Euan Kennedy, distilled in 1949, bottled in 2022 and ultimately released in 2024.

Both releases are housed in crystal decanters from longtime Macallan collaborators Lalique. The bottles feature relief artwork from Andrew Davidson, whose traditional engraving artwork is also included throughout the unique packaging; each bottle is housed inside a massive book, hand sewn and bound with illustrations and history throughout.

Macallan The Reach 81 Year Single Malt Scotch 1940

Distilled just after the onset of World War II in 1940, this whisky spent an outrageous 81 years in barrel, making it the oldest whisky released by Macallan upon its release, longer than the average life expectancy in the United States (or Scotland, for that matter!). The Reach is an ode to time, with a special emphasis on recognizing the people and elements that have come together over a lifetime to make Macallan what it is today.

The wooden case is made from a fallen elm tree believed to have been standing on the property in 1940. Its panels slide back, revealing the mouth-blown decanter held aloft by three hands. Sculpted by Saskia Robinson and cast in bronze, one hand represents Allan Shiach, former chairman of Macallan whose grandfather was the head of the company in 1940 when the whisky was distilled and a pioneer of ultra-aged whiskies, the second represents the distillery workers from 1940 who crafted the whisky and the third represents that of Macallan's current Master Whisky Maker, Kirsteen Campbell, each having an influence on the liquid held inside. The whisky itself is drawn from a single sherry-seasoned cask, signature Macallan notes shine through despite the enhanced smokiness – in this era of production, peat was used both in the malting process and to fire the stills. Of course, after eight decades in cask, the oak influence is unmistakable; a deep auburn color, secondary notes of dark chocolate, peat, redcurrants on the nose which, on the palate, lean into toffee, ginger, pecan and charred pineapple mingling among the smoke, ultimately giving way to deeply rich, sweet, almost resinous finish.

Here is your rare opportunity to acquire one of just 288 decanters made.

Macallan The Red Collection (40, 50, 60, 71, 73, 74, 77, 78)

A nod to Macallan founder Alexander Reid and elements of marketing throughout Macallan's history, from the distinctive red text of The Macallan Choice Old in the early 20th century to the red ribbon hand-tied around the then-oldest bottling of 40 Year released in 1980, the Red Collection was launched shortly after another of Macallan's "firsts" when Kristeen Campbell became the first woman at Macallan to hold the title of Master Whisky Maker in 2019. Billed as Macallan's highest-aged collection, the Red Collection can be viewed as two parts: the core range of 40, 50 and 60 year expressions released annually and the occasional "guest" release of ultra-aged whiskies which so far include the 2020 releases of 71, 74 and 78 year, the 2022 release of 77 year and the 2024 release of 73 year. At the time, the 78 year release was Macallan's oldest release ever.

The full range of releases so far are available here. All matured exclusively in Sherry seasoned casks – imbuing another element of "red" to these releases – these are among Macallan's finest expressions of spirit, wood and time. The labels of the core range and the 2022 release of 77 year each bear the signature Kristeen Campbell, the initial guest releases of 71, 74 and 78 year are signed by Lead Whisky Maker Sarah Burgess who hand-selected the casks for the releases, and the 73 year, released as part of Macallan's 200th Anniversary celebrations in 2024, is signed by Lead Whisky Maker Evan Kennedy. These rare bottlings continue Macallan's tradition of ultra-aged releases, joining legendary releases like the 60 year 1926, Six Pillars in Lalique, the lauded Fine and Rare series and the 50 year Millennium Decanter 1949 as some of the highest auction prices achieved for whisky.

Macallan Time:Space 200th Anniversary Single Malt Scotch Tier A Release

Once again, Macallan has raised the bar on their “oldest whisky” to be released. For their 200th Anniversary, Macallan released this groundbreaking whisky, distilled in 1940 and bottled in 2024, after 84 years in barrel. Similar to The Reach, this whisky dates back to a time when the barley was malted with peat, and peat fired the stills, imbuing more smokiness than expected for a contemporary Macallan. For a special whisky, a special package is given. The ring-shaped decanter holds the rare whisky, selected by Kristeen Campbell from what tiny stocks remain from the bygone era. The ring is accented with metallic red components and, ingeniously, there is a second bottle contained in the center of the ring. What better way accent the oldest whisky you’ve ever released than to include a second bottle with one of the youngest expressions of Macallan ever bottled? The 350ml center chamber includes the very first release from Macallan’s new state-of-the-art distillery, which opened in 2018. Drawn from sherry seasoned American oak casks, the 2018 vintage bottled here was bottled at just 5 years old, yet displays the full profile of Macallan.

With the 2018 vintage bottle secured at the heart of the 1940 vintage decanter, the combined bottles are then housed inside a massive wooden sculpture, evoking Scotland’s national symbol of the thistle with 200 wooden spikes surrounding (protecting, perhaps?) the decanter and made from European and American oak, keys to what makes Macallan unique through its time in barrel. Appropriately, just 200 of these decanters were released.

Macallan x Sir Peter Blake "An Estate, A Community and A Distillery"

In 2021 Macallan released a capsule of bottlings in collaboration with Sir Peter Blake: Anecdotes of Ages, marking their third collaboration with the British pop artist. Offered alongside the "Down To Work" series, the label for this release, named "An Estate, A Community, and A Distillery," features a digitally-created collage designed by Sir Peter Blake, full of references to the long history of the Macallan estate and its influence both on and from its community. While visiting Macallan for inspiration for the design, Lead Whisky Maker Sarah Burgess met with Sir Peter Blake for inspiration on the selection of casks to celebrate their collaborative efforts in this bottling. The whisky is representative of the man himself, full of classic notes of dried fruit, spice box, citrus, but with an unexpected shot of peppery highs to represent his arresting approach to art and a long finish to match the 35 years of collaboration between the two.

The Devil's Keep Irish Whiskey 2020

The inaugural release of The Devil's Keep, there are only 333 bottles worldwide of this lauded Irish Whiskey. Distilled in 1991 and matured in Bourbon and ex-Tawny Port French oak casks and elevated by Pedro Ximenez cask whiskey, the final blend was finished in virgin Hungarian oak that were custom toasted to add a gentle smokiness before bottling. Winner of the 2022 World Whiskies Awards for best Irish single malt, there is more than just packaging to this whiskey, but it also won gold from the Spirits Business Luxury Masters Awards for its presentation. The case features a bevy of details and accessories intended to enhance the experience: proprietary Érimón tasting glasses, a glass jar with malted barley, a carafe of Irish spring water with 24 karat gold pipette, Armenian obsidian whiskey stones and even a perfume from Sarah McCartney named The Angel's Share, intended to evoke the essence of whiskey lost to the ageing process.

George T Stagg Antique Spiritus Frumenti Medicinal Whiskey

"Spirit of the Grain" is how apothecaries would refer to medicinal alcohols as far back as the 1800s. During Prohibition, doctors could write prescriptions for alcohol thanks to a loophole in the Volstead Act. George T. Stagg, a Captain in the Union Army, became a whiskey man after the end of the Civil War, striking up a friendship with Edmund Haynes Taylor and eventually buying the O.F.C. Distillery from Taylor in the 1870s. Their relationship would end in 1886, with Stagg buying Taylor out of their joint venture in part with a separate distillery that would become the Old Taylor Distillery. O.F.C. would be renamed George T. Stagg and Co. in 1890 and again in 1904 - eleven years after Stagg's untimely passing – to The George T. Stagg Distillery. When Prohibition struck, The George T. Stagg Distillery was one of just a handful that were allowed to continue producing whiskey as a medicinal product. This "Antique" version was made at the beginning of Prohibition in the spring of 1917 and bottled in the fall of 1933 – Seventeen Summers Old – and bottled in bond at 100 proof. In 1992 the distillery was purchased by Sazerac and in 1999 is renamed as the Buffalo Trace Distillery. In 2023, Buffalo Trace included an homage to Spiritus Frumenti as part of their inaugural Prohibition Collection releases, and the spiderweb motif found on that label and box drew inspiration from the motif molded into the glass from this Prohibition era bottling.

Macallan 55 Year Old Single Malt Scotch in Lalique

Bottled in 2007, this was the second release in the Six Pillars in Lalique series. The six pillars are the foundation of what makes Macallan special and are on display in every bottle of Macallan: Exceptional Oak Casks, the Finest Cut, Curiously Small Stills, the Spiritual Home, Peerless Spirit and this pillar: Natural Color. Taking inspiration from a perfume bottle designed by René Lalique in 1913, the stopper is made in amber crystal, a testament to the skill of Lalique's crystal makers as amber is among the most difficult colors to master. At 55 years old, the color here concentrates even further, leaning toward rosewood. Housed in a satin lined and leather covered case with a numbered booklet, there were only 420 bottles made.

Pristine Bordeaux Verticals

in Original Wooden Cases

LOTS 1246-1302

The wines in this consignment were amassed by a longtime collector, whose passion for wine inspired him to start a small winery of his own in the 1980s. The collection, centering on Bordeaux, began around this same time, with much of it bought on release or as futures. Herein, you will find comprehensive verticals from First Growths Haut-Brion and Margaux, as well as a towering vertical from Right Bank icon, Cheval Blanc. The wines are pristine and have all been kept in their original wooden cases, with notable vintages 1986, 1989, 1990 and 2000 particularly well-represented.

St Emilion, Premier Grand Cru Classé (a)

Lots 1303 & 1304: two 6-pack original wood cases

Lot 1305: 6-pack original wood case

"The 2018 Ausone is off the charts. Deep, sensual and mysterious, the 2018 is going to need many years to show the full breadth of its potential. And yet, there is so much there. Rich and concentrated on the palate, with phenomenal persistence, the 2018 is loaded with energy, tension and precision, offering a compelling interplay of opulence, saline intensity and structure. It is without question one of the wines of the vintage...97-100." VM 4/19.

Petrus 2019Pomeroltwo 3-pack banded original wood cases*

"No surprise that the sticky clay of Petrus has withstood the heat, keeping freshness and form. High aromatics, lush and open at first, with iris flowers, followed by plum, raspberry and blackberry fruits. High tannic mass compared to 2018 that you feel only through an undertow that anchors the fruit downwards... This surprises you, changing in character as it moves through the palate, becoming darker and more serious where at first it was fruit and flowers. Brilliant... 98" JA 6/20.

The supporting tannins are the ripest in the range though they make it indisputably clear that this is destined for a very long life, indeed 25 to 30 years would not surprise me yet this is not particularly austere though it may evolve in that direction once it's bottled. Piedmont

3-pack original wood case

In the 2013, readers will find a biting, vibrant Monfortino built along super-classic lines that includes vintages like 1996 and 1999, but the 2013 has more finesse that is the result of a the slight refinements and evolution that have taken place here over the last decade... 99." Hide bottles for 4-5 years and it will keep for 3+ decades. Good luck keeping your hands off it, though...100." JD 1/19.

LEGENDS: The Private Cellar of A.A.G.

Six Decades of Collecting

LOTS 1482-1535

The gift that keeps on giving: more wines from the LEGENDS Collection!

As a refresher, this collection represents over 60 years and two generations of father & son collecting the best of the best. The owners approached their collecting with a long-term plan: to buy wines on release and cellar them for the next generation's enjoyment. Almost no wines have been added to the collection in the last 20 years. The wines were bought directly from the chateaux themselves in many cases and have been temperature-controlled in a commercial wine warehouse owned by the consignor since purchase.

Highlights here include:

Barolo Bussia di Monforte Riserva Especial Bruno Giacosa 1979, Cheval Blanc 1948, two cases of the famous Mouton 1982, a duo of D.R.C. Romanée-Conti 1997, cases of 1990 Cristal, three Jeroboams of Pegau's Cuvée da Capo, the list goes on and on and on.

Bid with confidence.

Château Cheval Blanc 2018

St Emilion, Premier Grand Cru Classé (a)
two 6-pack original wood cases

"The 2018 Cheval Blanc is dazzling. Creamy, supple and inviting, the 2018 is endowed with phenomenal balance. The tannins and overall structure are imposing, and yet the richness of the fruit and perfect ripeness of the tannin really stand out. In 2018, Cheval is a bit richer than is often the case, but that is not at all a bad thing. I am struck by how much freshness and energy the 2018 has... it is the wine's overall sense of harmony that leaves the strongest impression. A precise counterpoint of fruit richness and finesse makes for a truly unforgettable Cheval Blanc...97-100." VM 4/19.

An Illustrious Drinking Cellar

LOTS 1818-2125

This large tranche of fine and rare wines hails from a longtime storage, auction, and retail client of Zachys. Bought primarily in the late 1990's and early 2000's from auction and reputable retailers, this collector always purchased with drinking in mind as an avid enthusiast and regular amongst New York City's tasting circles.

The result is what you see before you now: a massive assortment of regions (though mostly Burgundy), vintages, and sizes, but all sure to yield amazing drinking experiences. Highlights include multiple Magnums and bottles of Jayer Cros Parantoux (!), multiple bottles of the lauded Ermitage Cuvée Cathelin, 1945 La Mission Haut-Brion (also in Magnum), 1937 Chambertin Armand Rousseau, several bottles of Keller G Max... the list goes on.

While acquired from various sources, the wines have all been stored professionally. Don't miss this opportunity to acquire bottles from this illustrious collection.

Finest and Rarest

Bordeaux & Burgundy

LOTS 2126-2147

The name says it all! This excellent selection of wines showcases some of Bordeaux and Burgundy's finest wines. Bordeaux standouts include Imperials of Haut-Brion, Cos d'Estournel, and Léoville Barton from the hallowed 1982 vintage, not to mention the case of 1986 Latour nor the Jeroboam of 1989 Mouton Rothschild. Meanwhile, the highlights from Burgundy include not one, but two caseloads of 1996 Jacky Truchot as well as an original case of Leroy's 1995 Nuits St. Georges Aux Allots!

This is but a tranche of wines from a much larger collection that has been acquired over several years from reputable retail and auction sources. The wines have all been resting quietly in the collector's temperature-controlled home cellar since acquisition. Bid with confidence!

Excellent Acquisitions

LOTS 2162-2184

From a legendary collector and philanthropist, this repeat consignor began collecting in the mid 1980s, and stopped in the late 1990s. With wines like 1998 Richebourg Leroy and 1988 Echézeaux D.R.C., among others, it almost seems like they had a crystal ball for wines that would mature perfectly and be the most desirable on the market today! The wines have all rested in the client's custom-built temperature and humidity-controlled cellars since acquisition.

A Masterful Cellar

Decades in the Making

LOTS 2185-2257

Here is a wonderful cellar from a good friend of Don Zacharia. A patient longtime collector, who has amassed a beautiful cellar of mainly French wines from Bordeaux, Burgundy, Rhône, and Champagne. A couple of highlights are the DRC assortment cases, the Dom Pérignon vertical and 2000 First Growths in OWC. All wines were bought from reputable retailers (mostly from Zachys), and auction. All have been stored in a beautiful home cellar until released for this sale.

The Best Collection

LOTS 2266-2323

I am jealous of this collection – I want to own it, to drink it, to proudly showcase it. It is the collection of my dreams. Have I caught your attention yet? Look closely – bid aggressively – every wine in this collection is a treasure!

Over 95% of the lots are Burgundy, many with over 30 years of age, and all from top Domaines. Every notable Burgundy producer – Mayer, Roumier, Rousseau, DRC, Dujac, Ponsot, Engel. Over 20 lots of Dujac! A bottle of 1986 Mayer Echezeaux! Ponsot magnums! You'd prefer Bordeaux? How about some 1989 Petrus or Haut-Brion or 1982 Latour? Or some vintage Gaja and older bottles of Napa legends?

These wines were carefully sourced by a local collector and have been stored with Zachys. Most of the Burgundies were bought on release from the Domaine or Burgundy broker and shipped directly to the collector.

A BURGUNDY LOVER'S COLLECTION (LOTS 2360-2370)

From a dear friend with whom we've had the privilege to enjoy many of these bottles over the last 20 years, this Burgundy-focused collection is an opportunity for you to obtain well-aged and well-loved bottles from producers and crus that true Burghounds revere. Thoughtfully sourced over the past 20-30 years, these bottles come from the US-portion a larger, international collection being downsized as the collector settles more permanently (and more conveniently) not far from Burgundy. Cathiard, Rousseau, Clos de Tart, Gouges, Lamarche, Clos Lambrays – all immensely pleasurable wines, evoking the essence of Burgundy that we can't get enough of...The wines have been sourced from top retailers in the NYC-area and were professionally stored nearby.

LAFITE CASES INCLUDING LOTS FROM THE CELLARS OF CHATEAU LAFITE-ROTHSCHILD (LOTS 2372-2375)

A precise collection of a few of the great vintages from Lafite. Two of these lots (2372 & 2373) are direct from the cellars of Château Lafite-Rothschild, purchased from Zachys March 2019 Lafite sale. The wines from this collection were released from the Lafite-Rothschild cellar. The wines from the 2019 sale were stored without labels at the Lafite cellar. The labeling was done specifically for this auction with all vintages printed on modern security paper and affixed with a "proof tag" to guarantee authenticity. Each lot was capsuled for this auction. Each bottle was put into a wooden case made for this auction and banded with a custom "150 Years at Château Lafite-Rothschild 1868-2018." Each bottle bears a small sticker indicating it came directly from the cellars of the Château. The original buyer of these 2 lots stored these two cases in his custom-temperature-controlled cellar until returning the wines to Zachys for this December 2025 sale. The wines remained in their banded OWCs until our 2025 inspection.

The other two lots were purchased as futures, direct from notable NE retailers, and likewise were stored in ideal cellar conditions. This is an opportunity to purchase some of the highest quality Lafite cases with ideal provenance.
