CLASSY BURGUNDY, STRAIGHT FROM A CHAMPION SOMMELIER (LOTS 166-191)

This consignment is from a large European steakhouse, whose head sommelier is highly decorated and a winner of multiple competitions. Sometimes though, a little cellar thinning is necessary even for large places. Here you'll find mostly Burgundy from stars like Mugnier, Mortet, Roumier, and Perrot-Minot but also great bottles of Champagne and Barolo. Bid with confidence as the curator of this collection knows what he's doing!

Rare Wines

from a Michigan Cellar

LOTS 192-255

This collection of exceedingly rare Burgundy comes from the home cellar of a mid-Western collector. Opus One and DP P2 are the warmup, but we quickly get into the heart of the matter with Coche-Dury, Leflaive and Lafite, Petrus and a hair of DRC thrown in for good measure. All of the wines here were purchased from reputable local merchants and stored in the consignor's temperature-controlled home cellar.

Rare Wines

from the North

LOTS 256-374

From a longtime collector and friend of Zachys comes this exceptional collection from Canada—brought in before any potential tariffs! The collection comes from a custom refrigerated home cellar and was brought to NY under temperature-controlled conditions.

The offering reads like a who's who of wineries from Cristal, Winston Churchill, and Salon to Ramonet, Rousseau and of course the Domaine. Dujac, the beloved (and tiny) winery Jouan, Chambertin master Trapet, the women of Mugneret Gibourg—the list goes on and on. Please bid with the utmost confidence here!

FIRST CLASS BORDEAUX AND BURGUNDY, INCLUDING GRAND FORMATS (LOTS 420-445)

The following lots are some of the highlights of the collection of a great friend of mine who passed away two years ago. He purchased most of these wines at retail within three or four years of the vintage date and placed them in commercial storage, where they have rested ever since. The exceptions are the Melchior of Calon Ségur 2003, Imperials of Pichon Lalande 2003 and La Conseillante 2000, and Jeroboams of Charmes-Chambertin Girardin 2002, Clos de la Roche Ponsot 2004 and Clos des Lambrays 2002, which were purchased later and placed in storage in 2010. I shared many bottles with him over the last four decades; all were impeccable—as was he.

A Selection of Rare Wines

from a Dear Friend

LOTS 446-514

A true “wine lover’s cellar” and repeat consignor from right here in the New York area—all stored in professional wine storage until released for this auction. Much of the wine here was bought on release as well.

The wines are the who’s who of great wineries at every price point Keller (see much of the Riesling in the online auction in April as well), Dancer, Coche-Dury, Roulot, Ente, Roumier, Liger-Belair, Bertheau and more.

Bid with absolute confidence.

Join The Raid

of a Nordic Institution!

LOTS 515-596

Auctioning the cellar of a restaurant is always special. Not a bit less special when the restaurant has been an institution for wine drinkers in the Nordics for decades; this place has had a Wine Spectator Best Award of Excellence for almost 20 years. However, this winter they decided it was time to empty the cellar.

As such, please indulge in a swathe of DRC, plenty of great Champagne, lots of other top Burgundies and various top names from around the wine world. Some labels might be nicked, torn and stained. Yes, that what comes with years of storage in a restaurant cellar dug straight into the mountain side.

All of the bottles are purchased directly from the local importers and agents for the respective producers and have never left the cellar, until now. You're not only buying a perfectly stored bottle with perfect provenance. You are also buying a piece of Northern European restaurant history.

Bid with confidence!

Finest French, Italian, and California Wine

LOTS 647-753

The classic collection offered below is the property of a collecting couple who rebuilt their wine collection from scratch after a power outage in 2016. The wines were all purchased between 2017 and 2021, and the quality and provenance of the wines reflect the consignors' four decades of experience collecting great wine. A longtime client of Zachys, the collectors sourced many of these wines at Zachys auctions during this period and housed them in a fully climate controlled and monitored home cellar. The collection is centered on a longtime love of Bordeaux, and accented with several lots of finest Burgundy, Champagne, Italian, and Napa wines. Zachys is very familiar with this collection, having been the source of much of the wine, and having inventoried and pulled the wine for sale.

Astonishing Wines

from A Longtime Collector and Friend

LOTS 754-984

In short, an astounding collection from a renowned collector and longtime Zachys client of over 20 years (and a friend of Jeff Zacharia)! This offering is a feast for the eyes but even more so for one's palate as it runs the gamut of Burgundy, Bordeaux, and California. The collection features treasures like 1996 Musigny Leroy, 1999 Romanée-Conti, 1990 La Tâche, 1959 Latour, a full case of 1989 Haut-Brion, three cases of 2000 Mouton, a full case of 1994 Harlan Estate, and the list goes on and on and on!

The bulk of the wines were purchased on release from respected retailers, primarily Zachys, and all of the wines were either stored professionally in a highly regarded Florida facility or in several EuroCaves in the gentleman's New York City apartment. Do not miss this opportunity to acquire wines from such a reputable collection!

Rare Wine

from a New York City Collector

LOTS 985-1089

With a focus on Burgundy, this collection from a major New York City collector is sure to delight any connoisseur! For starters, there are young packs of DRC's Romanée-Conti and La Tâche that are perfect for the cellar alongside historical offerings like a full case of 1989 DRC Echézeaux. Moreover, there are multiple bottles from d'Auvenay's profile like Mazis-Chambertin, Chevalier-Montrachet, Criots-Bâtard-Montrachet, and more. Not to mention the several different offerings of Leroy like Chambertin, Nuits St. George Aux Boudots, Romanée St. Vivant, and others.

While focused on Burgundy, there are several additional choice offerings from elsewhere in France; there's 1962 Petrus, 1990 Krug in magnum, as well as double magnum of 1978 Hermitage La Chapelle Jaboulet!

These wines were acquired from a myriad of reputable sources over the years and cellared properly since acquisition, so bid with confidence!

MICHTER'S 25 YEAR OLD SINGLE BARREL RYE
(LOT 1187)

The Michter's distillery has developed a cult status since its abandonment by the original owners in 1989, and limited releases of its aged stock, like this bottle and the lauded A.H. Hirsch Reserve, have only contributed the the fame. As one of the pinnacles of American distilling, this is the one of the longest aged American whiskeys available and encapsulates Michter's house style of rich flavors and without excessive woodiness. The first Michter's 25 year old rye released was in 2011 while this bottle is a single barrel release from 2014 and is one of only 106 bottles produced as result of some very greedy angels.

This bottle was sourced by a repeat, knowledgeable consignor and stored properly since acquisition.
